CANADIANS ARE CAUGHT IN HOSPITAL HOLOCAUST

Board Hears Case Argued for Large Power Franchise

Campbell River Applications Supported by Power Companies, With Assurances of Ample Financial Backing—Timber Companies Want Guarantee of No Disturbance of Water Levels

Strathcona Power Co. Given Opportunity for Action Later

ALL the evidence connected with the question of the Campbell River power project has been submitted to the Water Board, which will consider the matter, and make its report to the Minister of Lands, recommending a course of action in connection with the application. The board had only two applications before it yesterday that could be considered on the merits of the situation.

The Strathcona Power & Pulp Company, recently incorporated for the purpose of carrying out an undertaking there, if it could be accorded rights, had not filed its application in time for taking up yesterday's order than as a protesting factor against grant to either of the other applicants.

In due course it is assured the latter company, that if there is merit in its proposition, its case will be heard. The present hearing has reference to the request of the companies for leave to enter upon the ground and make the necessary investigations looking to whether they will later feel justified in submitting a plan setting out in detail the work to be carried out, and which will be asked to be approved of.

BRITISH CAPITAL

The Strathcona company is representative of the syndicate that had in view the erection of a large pulp and paper mill at the site of the power which represents British capital. The assurance was given the board yesterday that the London investors are still prepared to go ahead with the undertaking.

In view of the fact that the Water Board is now not only charged with the ordinary duties connected with the recommendation of action along the line of granting powers to applicants for Water, but is also a public utilities board, there is set out in the act passed at the last session of the Legislature authority under which that body can make it obligatory upon a public utilities company, which is developing power, to furnish an industry with the necessary energy within the scope of the operations where the power is available for such work.

As it was stated that the Strathcona Company was primarily interested in the development of an industry rather than in the production of power, the way appears open for the carrying into effect of its purposes should it desire to do so.

TWO CASES

The two cases properly before the board and seeking the power were the B.C. Electric and the Campbell River Power Company.

The letter, while it was called to

PRINCE SAVES MAN MENACED BY MACHINERY

Heir to Throne Is Central Figure in Exciting Episode at Newcastle Exhibition

STORY IS RELATED BY EYEWITNESS

NEWCASTLE, May 15.—The Prince of Wales was the central figure in an exciting episode here yesterday—when he dramatically rescued a man from being drawn into some machinery at the North-east Coast Exhibition. In describing the rescue of the man, who was named Guinness, the foreman of the exhibition, an eyewitness said that he thinks happened in a flash.

Guinness was sitting on a ladder adjusting a machine for the manufacture of tin containers when the Prince was examining. He was pointing out the interesting features in the process when one of the tins caught in a cog. Guinness in snatching at the tin in case breakage, slipped off the ladder and hung with his feet within a few feet of the machinery which was revolving at good speed. The Prince grabbed at Guinness' coat and pulled him toward the ladder.

"The overalls slipped from the Prince's hands," said the informant. "and Guinness, still clinging to an overhead girder, swung back to his dangerous position. The Prince then seized him the second time, and succeeded in pulling him clear of the machinery."

BIG ESTATE AT STAKE

WINNIPEG, May 15.—"Honest intentions" of Alexander MacDonald with regard to the will leaving a $2,000,000 estate to John A. Forlong, a son-in-law, Grace Forlong, his daughter, and Duncan MacDonald, a son, once dead, are to be investigated before Justice L. G. Stubbs.

With the will, dated June 22, 1928, two months previous to MacDonald's death, definitely absent-mindedness, it is said that the entire estate will come to Mrs. Forlong, her-at-law and next-of-kin. The will filed for probate was signed and dated after a decision that it should be proved in solemn form. Inquiry regarding the circumstances surrounding the will of June 22 proceeded today.

Miss Clare Ashdown Green Chosen Queen of the May By High School Students

"I FEEL it a great privilege and honor to have been chosen Queen, when there were so many other girls who might have filled the position quite as well." With these few simple but gracious remarks Miss Clare Ashdown Green, of 346 Michigan Street, accepted the congratulations of the press upon her election as Queen of the May for Victoria's annual May 24 celebration.

Miss Green is a charming fair-haired girl, thirteen years of age. She is of an unassuming disposition and has already shown that she will deport herself as Queen of the May in a most gracious manner.

A pupil at the South Park School last term, Miss Green is now a student at the Victoria High School, ranking at the end of her first term in division twenty of grade nine.

She was selected by a board of judges from a large number of candidates nominated by the students. Each division nominated two candidates.

Three candidates were then considered by a board of judges, comprising members of the teaching faculty headed by the dean of the girls.

"Clare is a popular choice. She has already won scores of friends at the school," declared Mr. Ira Dilworth, principal of the Victoria High School, following the announcement yesterday. "She is an excellent student and has been showed this honor because of her industry just as much as for her personality."

Queen Clare is quite excited over the appointment. The next few days will be quite busy ones for her, as she will have to be fitted for her royal robes and coronet, and rehearse her part for the pageant and coronation ceremony that will take place at The Willows Arena on the evening of May 24.

On that occasion she will be attended by fifteen princesses, selected from the graded schools. Heralds and pages will also be selected from the schools, so that the coronation ceremony will be conducted in true regal manner.

Princesses are now being selected from the following schools: Girls' Central, George Jay, Margaret Jenkins, North Ward, Oaklands, Quadra, Sir James Douglas, South Park, Victoria West, Bank Street, Beacon Hill, Kingston, Quadra Primary, Spring Ridge and Burnside.

Heralds and pages will be drawn from students of the Girls' and Boys' Central Schools. At the other schools will also contribute towards the pageant to be held at the Arena, with directing teachers choosing and other forms of entertainment.

Dr. Eckener Expects to Reach United States Coast in Neighborhood of Virginia

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 15.—The Graf Zeppelin, giant dirigible, left Friedrichshafen at 5:57 a.m. (11:57 p.m. Wednesday, Eastern standard time), on its second voyage to America.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the great ship, assembled his eighteen passengers at the Kurhaus Hotel just before noon. Weather conditions he said, were so favorable that he expected to make Lakehurst by Saturday night after a flight of from sixty-five to seventy hours.

His probable route will be by way of Cape Finistere, then straight westward, north of the Azores, reaching the American coast in the neighborhood of Virginia or the District of Columbia.

TO FLY IN JULY

While the Graf Zeppelin was awaiting her second take-off for New York, a third flight to the United States late in July was announced through the Hamburg-American Line today.

It also was stated that the future trip will be for American passengers the beginning of a round-the-world cruise, of which Tokio, San Diego and Lakehurst are now fixed landing points.

A third announcement was that a "midnight sun trip" will be made in August from Leningrad and the Norwegian coast to the Arctic circle.

The Arctic flight, first slated, making its final plans for an Arctic

CLEVELAND, O., May 15.—Deadly, suffocating bromine gas, given off by two explosions of X-ray films, and an accompanying fire, killed one hundred persons in Cleveland Clinic Hospital today. Twelve injured persons were listed in hospitals. The dead were patients, doctors and nurses who filled the four-story structure at 11:40 o'clock, the busiest hour of the morning. The first explosion came when X-ray films stored in the basement, caught fire, releasing deadly fumes. The fumes penetrated to the waiting-room on the first floor.

The hollow centre of the building soon filled with gas as the internal heat below sent the fumes swirling upward. Before anyone had an opportunity to escape a second blast blew out the skylight and filled every corner of the building with deadly bromine gas.

Occupants had no way to escape but by the windows, and few were able to reach them. Many were enveloped in the fumes which hung about the building and they collapsed.

DOORS ARE CHOKED

The two street entrances were choked, and the stairways leading to the roof were heavy with the fumes. Ever piece of fire apparatus available was centered at the clinic and every vehicle possible was commandeered to remove the bodies. An hour and a half later all had been taken to neighboring hospitals.

COST OF FEED GRAIN RUINING POULTRY MEN

Port Haney Man With $43,000 Investment Is Ready to Sell for Fifty Cents on Dollar

MILLION LAYING HENS IN PROVINCE

VANCOUVER, May 15.—"Give me fifty cents on the dollar and I'm through."

This was the answer returned by Mr. Richard W. Holland, veteran British Columbia businessman, who now operates a poultry ranch at Port Haney, when he was asked before the Saskatchewan Royal Grain Commission on Wednesday afternoon if he would sell out for the commissioners of the grave need for lower feed prices on feed grain for British Columbia poultry.

After telling the commissioners how he went into the poultry-raising industry with an investment of $43,000, and found that he could not make a living by selling eggs and small fruit, Mr. Holland explained that he had been called to his home by reason of the grain problem.

MILLION LAYING HENS IN PROVINCE

Mr. Holland expressed the belief that situations similar to his own were the lot of many poultry raisers in British Columbia. Hundreds have gone out of business. He said that the Japanese were invading this industry, just as they had in the fruit-growing industry.

The witness said that a University of British Columbia survey of 100 farms in the province showed that the average cost of production for eggs was 34 cents a dozen. The average price was between 23 cents and 32 cents.

RETRACTION SUGGESTED

He expressed the belief that a reduction in the price of feed by $14 a ton would bring the price which had ranged from $44 to $50 a ton, would mean a great boost for the poultry industry. It would put the British Columbia poultry raiser in a position to meet world competition.

Cross-examining the witness, Mr. E. E. Burkenfield brought out the point that in British Columbia dealers sold the grades 5 and 6 off wheat in feed 1 and feed 2. He explained that the wheat pool purposed to ship in feed grade wheat that are below the 5 and 6 wheat grades.

William Maxwell, of Surrey, and R. J. Denney were other witnesses.

POOL TO TAKE ACTION

With the object of supplying British Columbia poultry farmers with feed grain at prices lower than those now charged, the Alberta Wheat Pool is turning its attention to this phase of marketing and is expected to institute a service which will benefit the poultry industry particularly in the Fraser River Valley.

This was the gist of an announcement made by C. D. McCeer, K.C., before the commission this morning. The address was devoted to the hearing of witnesses from among British Columbia poultry raisers. Mr. McCeer intimated that he would call witnesses to bear out his announce-the attention that it was on the same basis as the B.C. Electric in point of filing application, and therefore no priority as between them existed took the ground, through its solicitor, Mr. W. D. Moresby, that there was something of a first claim upon the power in view of the fact that it had had a record there before and it was represented that Island Power a rather hard time owing to circumstances in its attempt to carry out the requirements put upon it.

The B.C. Electric advanced the ground that it was in need of the power that could be derived there in order to meet the requirements of the city of Victoria and that it was prepared to find a market elsewhere on the Island for the other power that could be controlled over and above what was needed for the city and for other points along the route of the transmission wire to the city.

A SURPRISE

During the afternoon proceedings somewhat of an unexpected phase of the situation came up when Mr. R. L. Reid, K.C., for the Strathcona Company, gave information that the former Minister of Lands, Mr. T. D. Pattullo, had not carried out his promise to the former holders of the rights at Campbell River, the Campbell River Power Company.

Mr. E. P. Bremner, the head of the Strathcona Company and the senior leading spirit in the Campbell River Company, gave the information in reviewing the history of the case that his company in 1926 had been assured by Mr. Pattullo that if it could make the money there would be a continuation of the licence.

When he got the financial end lined up and came back to the minister, he had told him it was too late and that he had another company, presumably the Crown-Willamette.

TIMBER MEN'S VIEWPOINT

The timber men in the vicinity of the power were represented at the hearing and vigorous protest was made by a number of them against the raising of the level of the lakes concerned in the proposed power proposition. It was represented that this would make the carrying out of the logging operations very materially higher than at present. It would interfere with the present railway routes along the lake levels and in many instances would destroy the standing timber. Again, it was set out that millions of dollars of investments would be seriously interfered with in the waters dammed in the lakes, cutting off some of the booms for timber.

There was also objection raised to changing of the points of diversion of the waters from the lakes, as this would interfere with boming grounds, and if the logs were diverted to other than Menzies Bay the cost of handling them would be materially increased, as it is the intention is thousand being mentioned.

Mr. Reid wanted the case to stand over until he could get from London the assurance which was desired as to the bona fides of the principals of the Strathcona Company in the carrying out of the paper mill suggested.

The board, however, felt that this aspect of the situation could come up later, when the approval of the undertaking, perhaps a year hence, would be up for consideration.

Mr. Moresby, for his company, was ready to give an assurance that the undertaking would be carried to completion if the application of his company were granted.

When the attention was called by the comptroller of water rights to the fact that the application was in the name of the Campbell River Power Company, while the assurance of the carrying out of the proposition was represented at the hearing as coming from another company, the Canadian Utilities, Mr. H. R. Milner, director of the latter company, proposed that the board look upon these companies in the same way as it had done with Island Power Company and the B.C. Electric Company were regarded, namely, subsidiary the one to the other.

VARIOUS OPINIONS

Mayor Anscomb made an appeal for the B.C. Electric to carry out the wishes of the City Council.

Captain Mackenzie, of Esquimalt, wanted a delay to take place until the various boards of trade came in into the matters connected with the proposition.

Mr. Charles Harrison, representing the boards of trade in the vicinity of Courtenay, wished to have that district receive first attention in the matter of the needs for power purposes.

The board, however, waived these objections, which, it was pointed out, could all be dealt with before the undertaking was finally approved of a year from now. In other cases there were opportunities to appeal to the board in the form of by of a sitting board, with power over the companies in the matter of rates and distribution to an extent.

EXPLAINS SITUATION

On the opening of the proceedings yesterday morning, Mr. Joe F. Macdonald, the Comptroller of Water Rights, explained for the advantage of those who were concerned the exact situation with regard to the matter. He announced that there had been four applications received for the water rights at Campbell River. One of them, that of the Strathcona Power & Pulp Company, had only reached the board that morning.

It could not be heard on its merits, owing to the fact that the necessary time had not been allowed. He proposed, however, that the company might be heard at the present sitting in the way of raising any objections it saw fit to the other applications.

He went into the various classes of applications. With the exception of the application of the Canadian Crown Willamette, the other two that could be heard that morning were under Class B. It was customary, he said, for the holding of the sittings in which the comptroller was alone empowered to hear the applications, and those which the board had authority over at a common sitting. He asked if there were any objections to that final sitting to be held in this case?

No objection was raised, and accordingly this procedure was followed.

With only one Class B application before the body, the comptroller suggested that the argument in this case be heard first.

APPLICATION WITHDRAWN

Mr. J. H. Lawson, representing the Canadian Crown Willamette Company, said that by arrangement with the Government the application of his company had been cancelled and the security that had been put up by it was to be returned.

He said that he therefore was appearing for the application. His claims would probably be users of power to be developed, and that he was there to say they were strongly supporting the application of the B.C. Electric Company.

At the suggestion of the comptroller, the other two applications were considered in a joint hearing. He said the two applications were in the final position as to priority of application.

Mr. R. L. Reid, K.C., appearing for the Strathcona Company, asked if the laying over of the application for his company would be done without prejudice to his company.

The comptroller said that that application would be dealt with later.

TAKE BY TWO YEARS

Mr. W. C. Moresby, K.C., for the Campbell River Power Company, recalled the history of that organization, and the difficulties which it had had to face in the attempt to be established in early days on the river. While the applications now under consideration might be regarded as coming in at any priority being recognized, he said that there was another series, however, in which he felt that his company had a prior claim. That was since the Dec. 1 that that it had had a recognized right to the water under an agreement.

He recalled the investigations that had been carried out on the site by the late Mr. Michael King, who had, in 1909, in spite of great difficulties, entered the area and secured the water power. Associated with others, Mr. King had duly incorporated a company, and on June 27, 1910, a license was issued to the company for the diversion of water from the river.

The area was not then known as it is now, and it required time to investigate the proposition. A year's time was given for the carrying out of investigations. It was a hard task, for there were no records in the Dominion, nor the Provincial departments with respect to the proposition. In 1913 there was issued to the company a licence requiring the starting of operations on the undertaking by 1914.

Mr. Grey Donald, formerly of the employ of the Department of Lands, was the engineer engaged to carry out the investigation. Plans were prepared and a survey made and application in 1914. They turned out to be worthless, and the money that was expended on the work was a total loss.

The war followed, and it became impossible to carry on the work.

In 1918 it was necessary to obtain an extension of time until July, 1918, and there were further extensions leading up to 1919 when a complete readjustment of the situation with respect to the matter, including that of fees, was reached on November 1, 1919. The agreement entered into between the minister and the comptroller at that time was submitted. Under this agreement the company undertook to pay $12,500 for arrears, extending over a period of years.

Mr. Moresby pointed out that the company at this time was spending quite large amounts trying to interest capital in the matter. It was a difficult task, however.

Part of the fees that were paid he admitted were provided by the dedicate holding an option on the proposition at the time, but the situation was such that if the syndicate fell down there was no recourse open to the company that it could well be credited with the amount paid. A further sum of $2,500 was paid in December of the year, and keep them alive until 1926, when there were extensions of the late Minister of Lands. At that time an agreement was entered into with another company which had come forward.

QUESTION OF VALIDITY

Mr. Moresby was not prepared to say whether there was a valid agreement or not. In any event his company was prevented from doing anything further as a result of this action.

The present Government had later thrown in the whole matter open and placed the water applications open to all comers.

His company had been endeavoring for fifteen years to interest capital in this undertaking. It had paid $23,819 to the province, and for research work and other lines had paid another $10,304, or a total of $27,550.

The company was now coming in with a company well able to carry out all the undertaking. This was the Canadian Utilities Company which, in turn, was backed up by the Internatagial Utilities Company.

The situation with regard to the Canadian Utilities was entered into by Mr. H. R. Milner, president of the company. He showed that it controlled the Nanaimo Electric Light & Power Company and the Dunsmuir Utilities Company on the Island.

He called attention to the holdings of the company in the Prairie Provinces, where there were very large investments in the matter of power supply in the line of electricity and also in natural gas. The Canadian Utilities Company represented a value of something over $20,000,000. If any references were needed the Royal Bank of Canada was referred to.

The public interest would be well served by showing consideration to the original stakers of the power, who had rights on the ground which might well be considered.

Mr Murtin said that authority there was for the transfer of the power from the Campbell River Company, the applicants, to the Canadian Utilities.

METHOD OF CONTROL

Mr. Milner pointed to the fact that the latter company was deeply interested in the territory served by this power proposition, and its holdings in Nanaimo and Duncan. He said that it was quite probable that the Campbell River Company would be controlled by the Canadian Utilities Company, controlling the stock.

He felt that a company that had spent some $15,000 on the proposition had some prior rights to it. That did not include the capital that was invested by his own company, but only the money invested by the Campbell River Company in the power proposition.

Mr. Milner advocated competition, although duplication of investments need not take place under that. Rates might be provided for avoiding duplication of investment, yet it was provided that competition might come in by invasion of adjoining territories where this was warranted.

The interests of the Canadian Utilities in British Columbia was on the Island solely. Its interests were in the upper part of the Island where the power proposition was discussed. It was located. It was a public utilities company prepared to serve all who wanted power.

In reply to the question as to the undertaking would be, Mr. Milner said that this would be governed by the terms of the board later. In the present plans submitted, there was no damming of Rapids Lake proposed.

SOME QUESTIONS

During the forenoon sitting, questions were raised freely across the table by those interested as to each other's interests. Mr. Murtin, for the B.C. Electric, said in reply to questions as the company would require power in Victoria by 1932. He said that there was a decrease in the demand in Victoria to continue to increase at only 16 per cent for the future.

Mr. Moresby asked Mr. Lawson if, with the control of rates under the board, would it be agreeable to the Willamette Company to take power from the Campbell River Company if it were granted the rights there, as well as from the B.C. Electric.

Mr. Lawson said that he was not instructed on this point by his clients.

Mr. S. J. Halls, manager of the light and power department, Victoria, submitted on behalf of the B.C. Electric the power applications that were being made from the company in the city of Victoria and vicinity. Some of these were being filled, while others were not. It was safe to say that 50 per cent of them would be required.

WITHIN A YEAR

To the comptroller, Mr. Murtin said that it would be agreeable to his company to enter into an undertaking to carry out the necessary investigations at Campbell River within one year, when it could present its application for approval or not.

VIEWS OF PUBLIC BODIES

On the opening of the afternoon sitting of the board, it was announced by the comptroller that the various interests outside of the companies directly concerned in the applications would be heard first.

Captain R. P. Mathison, representing the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, presented the resolution recently passed asking for the suspension of action for three months until the various boards could go into the matters involved.

Mr Claude Harrison appeared for Courtenay, Cumberland and other boards of trade of that district. These were not for nor against any of the applications. They had certain views which they wished to present, looking to the safeguarding of public interests.

Mr. Harrison suggested that later he would like to give the board the advantage of his views on the matter.

Comptroller Macdonald did not know that it was wise to hear an ex-parte presentation, and asked the views of the interests concerned.

Mr. Harrison said he only proposed to present his views later at this hearing.

Mayor Anscomb, for the City of Victoria, pointed out there was in this a matter which affected a Greater Victoria. He presented the formal resolution of the City Council.

The City of Victoria did not wish to hinder the development of the Courtenay district. Victoria was attempting of late years to advance in an industrial way. The city was faced with a situation whereby in 1932 it would be without further power possible to be supplied by the B.C. Electric.

He expressed fear from the reported statement of Mr George Hinton that the Crown-Willamette Company would require all the power of Campbell River. If the immediate district was to absorb all the power it was the serious outlook for Victoria. The city was opposed to having the danger of two companies concerned in the delivery of power to either city. It would mean two profits.

The franchise held by the Electric Railway Company would expire in 1936, which complicated the situation. He pressed the granting of the rights to the B.C. Electric, so that a direct fight could be made. The Mayor felt the question of rates in the city was a more important one. He did not contend that the rates should be arbitrarily set by Victoria as the same rate as in Vancouver, but at the same time rates were important and the city was glad to see that they were.

Mr. J. H. Lawson said the Canadian Crown-Willamette was in no way responsible for the statement referred to by the Mayor. The company was not affiliated with the other company alluded to.

Mr. George Hinton denied the statement attributed to him in the matter. He had never sent such a message.

PROTECTION OF TIMBER

Mr. H. J. Davis, representing Mr. Michael Cudahy, Wisconsin, owner of large timber limits on Campbell Lake, said the timber was very valuable. A sale had been affected with Bloedel, Stewart & Welch, and the removal of the timber was set for 1924, or a possible two years longer.

Storing water in Lower Campbell Lake could be done only by flooding a large part of this land. He therefore protested against any works which would flood the land within the time required to move the timber. There was no need of hurry in the matter. Mr. Davis did not object to the idea of development.

Mr. D. N. Hoasie appeared for the Campbell River Lumber Company, Bloedel, Stewart & Welch, International Timber Company, Carter & Sloan and the British American Timber Company. He said the company had had favorite as between the applicants. They were opposed to raising the level of the lakes so as to destroy timber by flooding.

They also objected to the diversion of the water from the lake to some other course than that at present forming the natural course. This would interfere with the booming grounds.

Mr. Hoasie contended that the boming rights were in a favorable position than either of the applicants. He said that the companies they owned the timber there for years before these companies became interested. His companies had $25,000,000 invested there, while the power companies had nothing at stake.

What was asked for was that there should be nothing done to upset the present conditions until the timber was taken off. The work of the company in the water-shed was only beginning. Royalties were being paid by his companies, taxation paid and men employed in large numbers.

He asked the board to refrain from granting any of these applications a blanket right to go in and take all the power they could get, leaving those with timber there the chance of collecting compensation for the damage done.

He advised that surveys should be made by the department, at the expense, if they saw fit, of the applicants, to learn what power was possible before becoming active. He also suggested that these companies be investigate also alternative sources of power supply.

Witnesses were called on the point.

TECHNICAL EVIDENCE

Mr S. O. Smith, manager of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch, with 1,100,000,000 feet involved, said the undertaking would not directly affect the operation now going on. It would, however, mean serious loss if the Campbell River operations which was the main part of the work.

There would be no disadvantages if the level of the lake were not raised above the present high water level.

Mr. Robert Pilberg, superintendent of the Canadian Logging Company said he had been thirty-five years or more in the logging business generally in British Columbia and built about 1,000 miles of logging railway.

He said a logging railway on the north side of Campbell Lake was the natural way to log the area there. Some 15,000,000 feet of timber was tributary thereto.

To dam the lake would flood ten miles of the railway and force the railway from a level valley up on a precipitous and rough course. It would cost the company and the timber could be handled by the same power.

Mr J. W. Kirkland, of Vancouver, an engineer with Logging Ltd. located the logging railway along Campbell Lake, said that the proper route for taking out timber was along Campbell Lake, Campbell River to Menzies Bay. To carry it by Rice Bay or other points there would be fifty cents on an average higher costs in handling logs from Rock Bay as compared with Menzies Bay.

Mr. E. J. Garrett, president of the Campbell River Timber Company.

B.C. ELECTRIC OUTLINES ITS UNDERTAKING

Statement on Campbell River Project Is Made by President W. G. Murrin to Water Board

JORDAN RIVER MAXIMUM SOON

While Needs of South of Island Are Soon to Be Imperative, Full Protection Will Be Given All Sections

A STATEMENT on the B.C. Electric Railway's plans for the development of the Campbell River project was presented at the morning session of the Water Board inquiry into the applications for the development of the power there for public utilities and commercial undertakings. This was supplemented by a verbal explanation by the President of the Company, Mr. W. G. Murrin. Mr Murrin made a very strong appeal to the Provincial Water Board along the line of the requirements of the City of Victoria and the remainder of the Island in an industrial way. The situation had been materially altered as far as the company was concerned, he said, during the past two years, owing to the added demands which were being made upon the company.

He had presented to the Water Board a statement covering the operations of the company, which was read by the general secretary, Mr. W Saville. He then supplemented this with further statements by himself.

Mr Saville, in his review of the situation, gave the following data:

THE COMPANY

"The Vancouver Island Power Co. is a subsidiary of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. The B.C. Electric has been established on Vancouver Island and on the Lower Mainland since 1897—over thirty-two years the predecessors go back to over forty years.

"Its policies have been consistently progressive. Its management has shown very few changes of personnel in the whole of that time. Its chief representatives in British Columbia—Mr Bunnell, Mr Spencer, Mr. Kidd and Mr. Murrin—cover practically the whole period of the company's history. On Vancouver Island, Mr Coward has represented the company for twenty-eight years.

"The company has endeavored at all times to keep pace with the growth of the community. We have increased from a company with assets valued at $3,000,000 to a company with an investment of over $80,000,000. We have an annual payroll of $5,473,784. We have 3,685 employees. Most of our revenues are expended in the Province. We serve a territory of 150 square miles and we render service to a population of nearly 400,000, embracing twenty-six communities. In the period from December, 1928, the B.C. Electric paid in income and property taxes, over $400,000.

"We have, to a greater extent perhaps than most similar companies, carried on our operations with a minimum of friction with the municipal and other governing bodies.

"The services of our company have been such an integral part of the life of the community, and we have been so intimately associated with all the developments in Southern British Columbia for the past thirty years, that it is impossible to think of Vancouver and Victoria without thinking of our company.

"At no time have we refrained from making legitimate expenditures ahead of the demand and in line with the requirements of the community, and it is consistent with this policy that we have put in this application for Campbell River.

"It has always been necessary to plan for many years ahead of the actual requirements of the moment, and we claim to have a good 4 record in this regard as any company giving similar service.

OBJECTS OF APPLICATION

"The object of the company in presenting this application is to develop power for purposes of industry on Vancouver Island.

"Our power demand for a good many years past, until a short time ago, increased at an average of three per cent per annum. Then in 1927 there was a sudden jump in power demand of about fifteen per cent, and in 1928 the percentage of increase was twenty per cent. You will see at glce that these last two years, particularly last year, made a complete change in the power situation. Whereas until two years ago we figured that the reserve at Jordan River would take care of the increase in power demand for roughly, fifteen or twenty years, the very rapid growth, particularly last year, changed all these pre-conceived ideas and made it necessary that we should immediately find further sources of power to take care of the future development at this end of the Island.

"Our present development at Jordan River is 39,000 horse-power, and we are proceeding at once to put in a further 13,000 horse-power. When this new work is completed, there will be a total of 52,000 horse-power, the economic resources of the Jordan River watershed will be at an end.

"We now anticipate that the Jordan River plant, fully developed, will take care of the needs of Victoria and vicinity until 1933.

"You will see, therefore, that it is absolutely essential that our company should secure further power to take care of the future demands of the community. Hence the present application.

"We believe that Campbell River, fully developed, should take care of the needs not only of Victoria and vicinity, but up-Island points, for years to come.

POTENTIAL DEVELOPMENT

"We have not yet, of course, been able to get full data, but we believe that the cost of the total development will be approximately $18,000,000.

TO SUPPLY INDUSTRIES

"After you have heard these facts, we do not think we need stress the point that the securing of this power by our company is a very serious matter for all those who are interested in the industrial development of the lower portion of the Island.

"In regard to the Upper Island, there may be some misgiving that the requirements of Victoria may have some unfair priority over the requirements on the Upper Island. Nothing could be wider of the mark. Campbell River is a very long way from Victoria—about 165 miles, and to bring that power to Victoria is a very serious undertaking, the cost of a single transmission line amounting to $1,750,000.

"It is, therefore essential, and we cannot too strongly emphasize the fact, that to get this additional power to Victoria at a low cost, we shall have to secure and assist in building up industries on the way to use our power, and at the same time take care of any and all industrial expansion in the northern section of the Island.

"The B. C. Electric is a public utility company whose business is to supply and distribute electric power. It is not allied to any single industry. It is the business to give good and efficient service at fair and equitable rates to all industries on similar character without discrimination in any shape or form.

"Having the electric power to sell, it is also the company's business to secure customers and to encourage by every means in its power industries to locate within its territory.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

"In this connection the B. C. Electric established, on January 1st, year a separate industrial department for the purpose of collecting and giving information to all prospective users of power. This means that we are prepared to assist capitalists and industrialists inside and outside the Province, to get information as to sites, costs of materials, transportation, labor, markets and endless other information to enable them to decide to locate in British Columbia.

FINANCING INDUSTRIES

"We are finding it possible, in connection with the establishment of new industries, to put inquirers in touch with suitable people willing to consider the financing of such industries, and we are hopeful of being able to develop this to a much greater extent.

"In this connection we would like to say a word about the new owners of the B. C. Electric. Messrs Nesbitt, Thomson & Company and Sir Herbert Holt and their associates, who control the company, are the largest owners and operators of public utilities in Canada and among the largest on this continent. They maintain an efficient industrial department in Montreal, and their very distinct policy is that when they secure a water power and develop it, they do their utmost financially and otherwise to build up industries along their lines to use their power.

"This has been done in a very striking manner in the East, and places that a few years ago were nothing but bush are now thriving communities.

"We have very definite instructions from our principals that if we secure Campbell River, an aggressive go-ahead policy will be undertaken on the Island. Therefore we think and state without exaggeration that, should we secure the Campbell River rights, all power requirements of the Up-Island districts, as well as Victoria and vicinity will be well taken care of "Messrs. Nesbitt Thomson & Company and Sir Herbert Holt cannot not only large power projects, but many other industrial concerns, and it is obvious that they have many opportunities of interesting suitable parties of good financial standing and advising as to the location of new industrial plants.

A CANADIAN COMPANY

"The B. C. Electric is a Canadian and British company. We have pointed out that it is associated with the two most powerful groups of public utility owners and financiers in Canada. These people have already shown their faith in the company and British Columbia by making large expenditures in Vancouver Island and the Mainland. We have a programme of $48,000,000 of expenditure to be incurred during the next five years.

"Association with these large concerns owning and operating public utility properties all over Canada gives us the benefit of their experience in management and operation, and it also gives the public here the certainty that the company's policies will have a Canadian outlook.

"In addition to drawing your attention to the fact that this company is owned and controlled by British and Canadian interests, we wish particularly to mention the fact that we have about 19,000 shareholders in British Columbia, and these shareholders are vitally concerned in the success of this application.

"Not, only are big revenues spent almost entirely in Canada, but the profits of the company are distributed to a very great extent as interest and dividend to holders of stock in British Columbia, Canada and the British Empire.

"Taking into Consideration the services we are now rendering to the community and the stake we hold in British Columbia, and the large expenditures to which we are committed, we have every confidence in asking for the approval of the Board to this application."

Mr. Murrin in his supplementary statement said:

"The statement which has just been read might be elaborated to a very great extent, but I have deliberately confined the remarks to the bare facts in support of our case, and I would just like, in conclusion, to summarize those points on which we are making our application.

BRITISH COLUMBIA COMPANY

"First of all, we are a British Columbia company. We started here when the province was young, and have grown up with the province. We have suffered in the bad times, and these times have not been few, and we have shared the prosperity in the good times, and, while we have depended on the province for our growth, we have contributed not a little to the development here.

"We have never failed in the past when capital for development has been required; we have been equal to the demands made upon us, and we do not wish to fail now.

"In other words, we are known to you, and have a record that we need not be ashamed of, and I think that this gives us a good right to approach you at this time.

REAL NEED FOR POWER

"In be mean place, we have a real need for the power. We are an industrial concern and such are guilty of gross negligence if we do not look for capital to meet the need the demand of the communities we serve.

NO RESERVES FOR VICTORIA

"There is no reserve water power available to meet Victoria's needs. The hydro-electric capacity will be exhausted not later than 1933, and what then? Surely, this constitutes a very strong claim, and, as was pointed out to you, the needs of Victoria do not conflict with the interests in the Upper Island, because, in a scheme of this character, it is almost imperative that development shall be made en route to help carry the heavy cost of the transmission line.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENTS

"Our ability to foster industrial development has been demonstrated to you, and I state most positively that the people behind the Vancouver Island Power Company are secured in no some in this regard.

"Both here and in Montreal, we have industrial departments working, the effects of which have already been felt, particularly on the Mainland.

"The industries that matter do not come with a flourish of trumpets. They come quietly, they plan ahead for their sites and other matters which have to be negotiated, and eventually start in such a way that it is possible afterwards to operate at a profit instead of a loss.

CROWN-WILLAMETTE CO.

"We have the confidence of industrialists, and this confidence has strengthened in a very clear way by the attitude the Crown-Willamette Company has adopted towards the Vancouver Island Power Company regarding this development.

CANADIAN COMPANY

"Another point which has a strong bearing upon the matter is that we are a Canadian company, and by this I do not mean the Canadian branch of some other company. The stock is very largely held in Canada, a great deal of it in British Columbia, the control is entirely here and the whole undertaking is conducted with a Canadian and British Columbia outlook and entirely in the interests of the people of British Columbia and Canada.

LOCAL SHAREHOLDERS

"It was stated to you that we had in British Columbia, upwards of 19,000 shareholders and there are also interests centered in Toronto and Vancouver, and these would naturally at this time be very vitally concerned in the decision of this board. This fact standing alone would have great significance, and under any circumstances I feel sure your board will recognize that it adds very much to the strength of our case.

FINANCIAL ABILITY

"Under ordinary circumstances, the question of ability to stand behind a development of this magnitude would be a very serious matter, happily in our case I need not stress the point, as I am quite certain it is recognized that the money is available to carry out this project to the full at any time.

POWER WANTED FOR USE

"We need the power and intend to develop so as to have this power available for the demand which may legitimately be made upon it, the only point which is of service to the community is that power which is needed for use or stand-by, and a million horsepower developed ahead of its requirement not only is of no value to the community, but constitutes a heavy wast in carrying charges which must eventually prove a burden rather than a blessing.

READY TO DEVELOP

"In the truest engineering and economic sense we are ready to develop this power and to develop it in any such a way that it can be to the best advantage to the districts served. Finally, what will happen if we do not get it? Victoria has no further reserves of hydro-electric power. Our investments in the electric business in Vancouver Island are such as to make all other existing developments negligible by comparison, and after taking two hours I began to feel stronger, looked better and he came came back into my cheeks, and now I am feeling fine again."

BRITAIN AND REPARATIONS

Considering the attitude of the United States in the matter of the debt she is owed by Great Britain the new reparations proposals of Mr. Owen D. Young, the American representative on the Reparations Committee, are hardly understandable. They have been reprehended by every political party in Britain, by the press as a whole and Mr. Winston Churchill, speaking officially, says they are not acceptable. If Mr. Young interprets the attitude of his country then it seems the United States is willing that Britain, and Britain alone, should be the sufferer where reductions in reparation payments by Germany are concerned.

Under the terms of the Spa agreement France is entitled to 50 per cent of reparation payments, Great Britain to 22 per cent; Italy to 10 per cent, and Belgium to 8 per cent; the balance of 10 per cent being divided among the smaller creditors. The new proposals not only mean that the total of reparations should be brought down to 33,500,000,000 gold marks from the sum of 39,500,000,000 gold marks, set by the present Reparations Committee, but that Britain alone would have to concede from her share the whole of the reduction amounting to about $719,000,000. That is the difference between the original demands of the Allies and the proposals made by Mr. Young, so that a settlement satisfactory to Germany can be effected. Under the Dawes Plan Germany was to have paid approximately 47,000,000,000 gold marks. This is being whittled down by the latest Reparations Committee.

Since the war the United States has become the greatest creditor nation of Germany. Undoubtedly her viewpoint is that reparations should not be so heavy as to mean a financial impetus on Germany thereby militating against that country paying her debts to the United States. That is probably the explanation of Mr. Young's proposals, though why those proposals should be an attempt to make Britain the loser is not clear, since Britain also owes a considerable sum to the United States. The fact is that the United States knows Britain can pay and will pay and is paying, whereas she is not so sure of Germany.

The outcome of Mr. Young's proposals is the greater certainty that the present Reparations Committee has failed in its task. Failure was threatened when Germany refused to pay the 39,500,000,000 of gold marks set by the late Lord Reversloke and his colleagues. Now it is final. Germany has refused the compromise suggested by the American representative because that compromise would mean Britain would have to shoulder all the loss to the Allies. In view of Britain's financial obligations arising out of the Great War the subtlety of the compromise proposed seems little better than a piece of effrontery.

VICTORIA DAY PARADE

The Junior Chamber of Commerce in the elaborate plans it has developed deserves every possible encouragement and co-operation from the citizens in making the Victoria Day celebrations a success. Considerable attention is being concentrated on the parade to be held on May 24 and it is in this feature that co-operation is so desirable. Outside entries have been secured and on account of the large number of entries expected here this city's efforts in mustering a celebration parade will necessarily be the cynosure of critical eyes. There are scores of firms and institutions in Victoria who could provide entries and most attractive ones. Many of them have done so in the past, continue to do so regularly and others need only to be reminded that their co-operation is for the honor of Victoria. This suggestion appears desirable because interest in parade entries from the local standpoint has up to the present, been lukewarm. Since this city has established an enviable reputation for the character of its May 24 parades the coming occasion should meet in all possible particulars the performances of the past.

VANISHING WILD FLOWERS

Britain has the same problem as maintains locally in the gradual disappearance of its wild flowers through indiscriminate picking and uprooting. There, as here, it is realized that a great part of the beauty of the countryside depends upon the wild flowers. The primroses are vanishing from the hedge rows and from the woods, the wild gentians are being uprooted wholesale. There are places where those who have wild flowers on their residential grounds have to keep watchmen to protect them.

The Bishop of Gloucester makes an appeal that the uprooting of wild flowers and ferns should be forbidden by law. Such a regulation would inflict a hardship on no one. He says the plants are almost invariably taken while they are in flower and there is no doubt that ninety per cent of them die. In any regulation a schedule would have to be printed which would distinguish wild flowers from weeds. He also urges prohibition of the sale of wild flowers, another regulation which should prevail here. He makes suggestions that children at school should be instructed in conservation instead of being encouraged to pluck everything and bring them to school so that they may be told their names. Fourthly, he says the botanist ought to learn a certain amount of self-restraint. At present the botanist who finds a rare flower instead of being content to take one specimen for himself takes all he can get so that he may exchange them with other botanists. In conclusion the need, he says, is some legal protection and the creation of a public opinion which teaches self-restraint.

"GHOST WRITERS"

Most of the leaders in the sporting world who contribute to newspapers, some of the politicians who, in a similar way, like to see their names in print, and many, very many, others who sign articles for publication in the press are what the world knows as "ghost writers." In other words, they hire journalists who write for them. They contribute some of the ideas, but it is the journalist who does the bulk of the work, who frames the thoughts in a way to arouse public interest, and who nearly always inspires the thought. In sport and in politics, as well as in business and in social relations, there is recognition that publicity is the earmark of modern civilization. In the vast majority of cases the mediums for that publicity are hired; the rich man, the athlete and sportsman, the politician aspiring for public notoriety, the debutante or matron who would come into the limelight of social acclaim, are not journalists. They lack the gift of the facile pen; some of them are even unable to put pen to paper or talk into a dictaphone.

Many of those who are great in the eyes of the public today are inarticulate. Some of them have thoughts worth recording, but in the case of most of them they have greatness thrust upon them by "ghost writers." This form of manufacturing reputations is not without its dangers, negation of self in the "ghost," despite the fact that he or she is the mainspring of the publicity. It should require, as well, humility rather than vanity in the employer yet the very contrary is more often found. The "ghost writer" not only interprets "greatness" and the only consolation is that the notoriety, because it is of a spurious character so often is short-lived. On the other hand there are some "ghost writers" performing a useful task and one that is beneficial to themselves in other than a monetary sense. Of these Freda Kirchway, writing in The World's Press News, says: "It would be a fatal error to give up the ghost! The ghost writer has an important function in interpreting greatness that would be otherwise mute. He receives his remuneration in money and in the invigorating contacts with great minds. He peers behind the scenes of history. That in itself is a sufficient reward for his negation of self."

There is a popular conception that the music of "God Save the King" was composed in the United States. Its origin seems vague, for at one time it was supposed to have been the work of Henry Carey, the author of "Sally in Our Alley," an old London love song, composed about 1738. The music of "God Save the King" has, however, been traced much farther back in time. Mr. E. Lytton Wybert, writing in The Montreal Star, says that in the "memoirs of Madame de Crequi" it appears to be almost a literal translation of the "cantique" sung by the demoiselles de St. Cyr about 1685 when Louis XIV ordered the Church of that establishment to hear the morning prayer. He says the words were by Monsieur de Brinnon and the music by the famous Lully. This composition was translated and adapted to the House of Handel. The American claim is the composition of one Carey and that that of the tune sung by the demoiselles of St. Cyr.

WILL SPRING RETURN?

Will Spring return?
And birds and lambs again be gay,
And blossoms clothe the earth in spray?
Yes, gnatlets, yes. The daisy's flower
Again shall paint your summer bower,
Again the heavens shall supply
The garlands you delight to tie;
The lambs upon the lawn shall bound,
The wild birds coral to the round,
And while you frolic light as fleet
Too short shall seem the summer day,
To mute and to material things
New life revolving Summer brings,
The genial call dead Nature hears
And in her glory reappears

—Sir Walter Scott.

THE SHADOW

Once upon a time I heard it—
"Your spring there is none—
You will never see your shadow
If you always face the sun."

If you face the sun at morning,
Eve or noonday, you will find
Thus your shadow, like a coward,
Always slinks along behind

Can you read the hidden meaning
Of the words that quaintly run,
"You will never see your shadow
If you always face the sun."

—F. J. H.

Note and Comment

An Australian newspaper says Canada is a prosperous country. Canada works. We do not think in this case "distance lends enchantment to the view," because we are right on the spot, or nearly on the spot, and the fact is undoubted that Canada is prosperous. If Canada is prosperous because Canada works, that condition is in large measure due to Canadians. It appears the conditions in Australia are not so creditable to Australians as the conditions in Canada are to Canadians because Australians are working harder than Canadians, it appears from their work.

Instead of working the Australians are dreaming of so unattainable place in Utopia, where nobody works because there is no necessity for anybody to work, where all men and women are not only born free and equal, but there is an equal division of all wealth, and money, of course, "joy is unconfined." Yet we believe it was a Labor leader who declared that labor created all wealth. We do know it was a philosopher called Carlyle who declared that there could be no real happiness in the world except in the consciousness of having done an honest day's work.

Labor, in the political sense of the term, is not very strong in Canada. It is not very strong in the United States, either; it is very strong in Australia; it is displaying a great deal of strength in Great Britain. There have been Labor Governments in Australia, there has been a Labor Government in Great Britain, and there may be another soon. Canada's labor has not been the active of general prosperity in Australia. It has been given a much fair, it appears to have failed, because Labor Governments in Australia are constantly being upset. That may cause Labor orators have deluded Australians into a belief that labor has a basis of prosperity is a condition that it is not production, but talking and passing laws regulating the methods of production, that creates all wealth.

Canada and the United States are the two most prosperous nations in the world today. The relations of the two countries may not be entirely due to the fact that there is no "class-consciousness" among the people. It may be due principally to the fact that both countries are new compared with most other countries and that their natural resources are almost beyond accurate mathematical computation. But that must be true of Australia also. The apparent difference between Canada and the United States and Australia is that in the latter country Labor in the ascendency over the farm acreage to all governing powers in the belief that too much of the wealth of the country has been collected in the hands of the few and that in the interests of the many there should be a redistribution of that wealth through the adoption of a new industrial system. The conditions which Labor has deplored and seeks to change are even more pronounced in the United States than they are in Australia, and possibly they are quite as pronounced in Canada; but neither in the United States nor in Canada has a political Labor party become strong enough to attempt to change them.

There are other marked differences between the conditions in America and the conditions in Australia as well as in some European countries where Labor, or Socialism, has made considerable political progress. In this country the principal wealth-producing industries, primary, such as agriculture and kindred occupations. A man who tills the farmers own their own land and perform the greater part of the labor upon their holdings, under the circumstances, it is utterly impossible to organize the farmers upon a union basis and fine them up on a political basis. Our farmers work hard. They know by the fruits of experience that a substantial wealth they possess has been gained by hard work and could not have been gained by academic discussions about the blessings of a short day's work for a long day's pay. And for the most part they are satisfied with the position in life to which they have attained by hard and unremitting toil. They are not clamoring for their just share of the Rockefeller or the Ford billions. That is what they would be doing if they stopped working with their hands because of class-consciousness and became tongue-wagging politicians bent upon organizing the world upon a new economic basis.

Fortune has been kind to a comparatively few people in this country but the majority of our people have had to work hard to establish themselves in business, many of them for a long time before they became "big." That is not a partisanship bad thing for either the people or the country. It is a bad thing for both the people and the country when agitators succeed in creating a widespread illusion that labor is bad for the body and debasing to the mind, and that it is not by industry but by speculation with accumulated wealth that nations thrive. Whatever strength there is in the position of the Italian Mussolini is due to the celerity with which he dealt with a dangerous situation in Italy and told the Italians to stop talking and go to work.

BOARD HEARS CASE ARGUED FOR FRANCHISE

said the company had an investment of over $1,000,000 in cash in the timber and railway operations. Mr. Durrett called attention to the fact that he had been associated with Mr. Webster, of the Puget Sound Power & Light Company, which had decided to put in modern high-pressure boilers to generate electricity instead of extending the hydraulic power which, he said, was being adopted by various companies as being more economical.

Mr. Carlson corroborated the statements as to losses to be sustained.

Mr. C. B. Battle, of the British American Timber Company, and Scanlon Company, with something over 80,000,000 feet of timber involved, said to take the timber out by other routes than at present would involve a vast amount.

Mr. Smith, recalled, said the International Timber Company had held for twenty-five years and had recently purchased some 300,000,000 feet, which the raising of the levels of the lakes would make prohibitive as far as taking out the timber was concerned. The International Company would have the timber cut off if the lake level were raised.

Mr Smith gave figures as to his company's operations in the lake in 1927 it paid in royalties $248,000, in 1928, $300,000, and in 1929 would be $400,000. The payroll was $1,000,000 a year, taxes had represented about $100,000 annually.

The International and the Campbell River Timber Companies represented similar amounts.

Mr. Claude Harris, before the close of the hearing, represented the angle of the Up-Island Boards of Trade. He referred to the Strathcona Park, which embraced the greater part of Buttles Lake. The province had acquired the alienated territory in the park bounds, and the Dominion, he said, would take that over as a Federal park and develop it, but not if the lake was to be interfered with.

The people of that district objected to anything being done to depreciate that asset, but if it were to be done, the people there asked that the community be given an absolute undertaking which would be binding upon whatever company acquired this power, that there be a development in the district to compensate for the loss.

Failing this, the district asked the Government to undertake the development of the power itself, and distribute it.

During the afternoon, Mr. R. L. Reid was advised by the committee to submit all he had to offer; as it might be that the board would take early occasion to review the matter on the matter.

Mr. Reid, while wishing that the matter might stand open until he had had time to get a verification of the cables received from England and the interests concerned in the pulp and paper mill of his clients were prepared to go ahead with the proposition, recalled the history of the connection of those he represented with the undertaking.

Mr Brenner and Mr. Gavin Burns and their associates had an option on the power from the Campbell River Company. There had been a large amount of money advanced for that syndicate. The option never lapsed, but the power of the company to carry out the undertaking had lapsed.

RESERVES STATEMENT

After setting out the general features of the proposition, Mr Reid called Mr Brenner as a witness.

He recalled the meeting of May, 1926, when the company with Mr Burns and other associates, a move was made to interest a pulp and paper mill in the Campbell River area.

He told of the discouraging period they were faced with, but in spite of various disappointments they had continued to interest people in London for a power proposition, but not for industry. That was the reason why they entered into the agreement with Mr. Burns and obtaining the mill.

By 1928 they found that capital in London was in a mood to consider financing the proposition. They had been given extensions on the power proposition from time to time, some of these only for thirty or sixty days. He had put it up to Mr. Kidd, then president of the B.C. Electric, with the idea of interesting him in the power proposition, with the proposal of selling it to interest.

Mr. Kidd had said that he was not interested in the northern end of the island.

In 1928 he appealed to Mr. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, for an extension of time, and got three months within which to commence work. At the end of the time Mr. Pattullo took over and cancelled the rights.

For a month before he had tried to get Mr. Pattullo to see the reasonableness of the proposition as the money markets were in a deplorable condition. The proposition was a large one, involving the development of power and the building at the same time of a large mill involving something like $10,000,000 in all.

He had told Mr Pattullo that the extension he had allowed were so short that it interfered with the carrying out of the plans.

With the exception of Mr. Creery, the members of the Government at Vancouver were interested in seeing it carried out and were advocating the reconsidering of the proposition by the minister.

On May 3 Messrs. Woodward, Odlum, Lawrence Wilson, Mr. Mars Smith, and it might be Mr. Creery, agreed to write Mr. Mr. Pattullo to give reasonable time to the applicant.

The reply came back that Mr. Pattullo would be in Victoria on May 4, which was the date set for the meeting of the board. It was agreed to meet at 4 o'clock in Vancouver with the shareholders of the Campbell River Power Company, and the city members and himself.

RETRACE NEGOTIATIONS

Mr Pattullo said that he had had a long discussion with Mr. Reid and with Mr Nadon, who asked what he wanted the Water Board to do in the matter. Mr Pattullo had told him to go ahead and cancel the power.

A protest came, after which Mr. Pattullo said "No matter if it is cancelled, if you can get the parties together and carry out your undertaking you may have the power."

Mr Brenner said he took the minister at his word and started in again to get the money and work.

By January 8 he came to Mr. Pattullo again and said he had the evidence of ability to carry out the undertaking.

It was then announced to him by Mr. Pattullo that it was too late. It was agreed to meet at 4 o'clock in Vancouver with the shareholders of the Campbell River Power Company, and the city members and himself.

It was then announced to him by Mr. Pattullo that it was too late.

Mr. Brenner told the minister he was committed to this mill whether go on.

Mr Pattullo said "You know where you can get power."

"I said, No," and asked him how much these people would require," said Mr. Brenner.

Mr. Pattullo said they would need all of it for a mill of 300 tons.

Mr. Brenner said he told the minister that there was power there for a good many mills of that capacity, and suggested that he should take power to where people in the extent they wanted it.

Mr Pattullo, he said, did not know what to do in such a matter.

Mr. Brenner said that if the B.C. Electric wished power to aid in the supplying of Victoria, it could get 40,000 horsepower at Great Central Lake, which was forty miles nearer to Victoria than was Campbell River.

Mr. Gavin Burns corroborated the statement made by Mr. Brenner.

The commissioner said that the three members of the board were present when Mr. Reid had submitted the rights referred to.

Later Mr Brenner recalled that the information had been given by Mr. Pattullo that he had telephoned to Victoria in the forenoon.

The assurance was given Captain Matheson that probably in a year's time, when the approval of the plans came up, there should be the opportunity afforded all interested to get their objections in along any line.

Considerable dispute took place with respect to the proposition to allow the board to hold a meeting in order to allow of the proof of the ability of the London interests referred to being able to go ahead.

The committee felt it felt that the board must be bound by the decision of the Vancouver, the application of Mr Reid could be argued when the board sat.

The board will report its decision to the Minister of Lands.

Jots From Literature

JOEL Chandler Harris born in Georgia, Oct. 9, December 1848, created one of literature's finest and most original characters in "Uncle Remus," the old ex-slave who told children the stories of "Brer Fox," "Brer Rabbit" and the "Tar Baby" are enjoyed. Harris wrote the stories as part of his day's work as a newspaper man, having been a member of the staff of The Savannah Daily News and one of the editors of the Atlanta Constitution in 1887. His works are a distinct addition to folklore and a valuable sidelight on the character of the old-time Southern negroes, and country life in Georgia. He died in 1908.

FREE ENTRY ASKED

OTTAWA, May 15.—Hearing of an application from the Imperial Oil Company, Ltd., of Toronto, for free entry into Canada of ethyl spirits, used in the manufacture of ethyl gasoline unopposed, was concluded yesterday at the session of the Tariff Advisory Board. Another application, made by F. The hearing was adjourned.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Victoria Colonist of May 16, 1879)

The bill introduced by Senator Carvell, declaring Dominion Day a public holiday, has passed the Commons.

The bark Lizzie Marshall, which went ashore some weeks ago on Dangerous Reef, Queen Charlotte Islands, has been floated off and towed to Victoria.

Reports from Chemainus state that great quantities are being destroyed and a number of miners working at Port Wrangell to enter the country.

PARADE ENTRIES ARE INCREASING

Public Market Stallholders and Y.M.C.A. Will Contribute to Success of May 24 Celebration

Local interest in the May 24 celebration is reviving as the day approaches. Two more entries were received for a parade that already promises to be nearly a mile in length. The parade committee working under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce received an entry yesterday from the stallholders of the Victoria Public Markets.

This float promises to be a floral interpretation of the beauty of Victoria. City and community effort has inspired the stallholders of the public market to build a beauty float for the grand parade.

Another entry received that day from the Y.M.C.A. This organization will take up a large section in the parade—a float with athletes performing gymnastics and a group of the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium class marching.

The committee is gratified with the co-operation it is receiving from the City School Board. Municipal Inspector George Dean and the district municipalities. Many more entries from the schools than were at first anticipated are being received.

Several comic entries are also promised for the parade, in compliment of H.M.S. Colombo, in addition to the detachment that will enter the international section.

IDEAS FOR THE DYE-WISE

PRIZE LETTER — FOR WISE DYEING

Mrs. Hughes Tells Secret of Nice Things at Little Cost

"I have used Sunset Dyes with wonderful success for many years. With a family of seven children and little money I proudly feel that my home was always cozy, bright, laundered and my children neatly and comfortably dressed. I was able with the indispensable, miraculous help of Sunset Dyes to turn out things really attractive and wearable.

"Certain coats have kept every member of the family warm at some time, made over out-doors, and changed in colour with Sunset. Old soft felt hats dyed with Sunset make attractive little girls' bonnets. Worn shirts, dyed pretty bright shades with Sunset make attractive dresses and nice blouses, and fine aprons. From bleached cloth floor bags dyed with Sunset, I have made rompers, bloomer dresses, aprons, boys' blouses, kitchen curtains, boreau scarfs and even patch-work quilts.

"Sunset-dyed, cheap, unbleached muslin makes attractive gifts of luncheon sets, bureau scarfs, pretty towels. A few cents invested in Sunset Dyes will make things just as bright and good as new; it is so easy and so quick to use."—Mrs. Thos. A. Hughes

Identification of Dead in Cleveland Disaster Difficult

The first blast was heard by Policeman Henry Thorpe walking two blocks away. He immediately turned in an alarm and ran to the building at Euclid Avenue and Ninety-Third Street. A block away he was blinded by the gas. The first firemen to arrive turned in a second alarm, and police, hospital and county morgue ambulances were concentrated about the building.

Battalion Fire Chief James F. Flynn, with his driver, Louis Hilleinbrand, were the first to enter the building. They reached the roof and chopped a hole leading to a stairway, then dropped a ladder to the fourth floor landing. Below they found sixteen persons, one a doctor and another a nurse, strewn along the staircase.

The physician, Dr. J. L. Locke, appeared to be alive and was taken out first. He was revived. Five of the others were taken to the roof and carried down ladders as arriving firemen battered in windows to reach those inside.

RUSH FOR OXYGEN

Ambulances and taxicabs were used to take them to hospitals. Dr. George W. Crile, head of the clinic, gave orders that all victims be taken to the closest source of oxygen, there only hope of life.

Some were taken to the Cleveland Hospital, adjoining the clinic building. The others were taken to Mount Sinai, Huron Road, and Charity Hospitals.

Emergency equipment was set up outside the building as the fumes lifted and permitted rescuers to work in safety. Police lines were thrown about the district to reroute traffic and hold in check a crowd of several thousand onlookers.

Inside the building firemen found many trunk in the spot where the fumes overtook the victims, neatly aside for clinical examinations were occupied by patients and physicians. Some sat in chairs of the waiting-room, overcome as the first cloud of gas swept up from the basement. Others in the front of the building were stretched along the stairs.

The rescuers found evidences of the sudden panic which dissolved came to those inside the building on every hand. Hats, shoes and purses were scattered about, abandoned in the flight of those who were able to fight off the fumes long enough to make a frantic attempt to escape.

EVERYTHING ABANDONED

Surgical equipment lay ready for use in the examining rooms. In the X-ray developing room a roll of film was stretched to dry. A wheel chair with the blanket thrown aside blocked a balcony overlooking the waiting room. A stenographer's half-finished letter was found in her office.

Everything was abandoned as the victims realized too late that the brown fumes curling through door casings and along the halls carried death.

Most of them were able to make an attempt to save themselves. Bedpatients were kept in the clinic and many of those there had appeared for medical examinations and were able to attempt escape. But so sudden was the catastrophe that some had time to reach the open air and safety.

Emergency provisions were made at the hospitals and as these became overflowed, a residence near the clinic was made into a temporary first-aid station. Cots were set in halls at Mount Sinai Hospital and as fast as the victims succumbed they were removed for the on-coming line of ambulances. The known dead were taken immediately to the county morgue, which was taxed as never before. Anxious relatives who arrived at the clinic to learn that members of their families had been removed gathered at the morgue and the hospitals to learn their fate.

IDENTIFICATION SLOW

Identification was slow. As rapidly as the names of the victims were learned they were posted at the morgue, and police established another bureau of information at Central Station.

The work of identification went on tonight. Police declared it might require several days to complete the roster of those who were killed. Disinfectants hampered identification of some, although none of the bodies was disfigured otherwise.

The blasts shot through the building with an intensity of heat which even the masonry could not resist. As the fumes leaped from the compression of the narrow quarters in the basement, they seared the woodwork and charred stair rails.

Hardened plaster was blistered and peeled from the walls. A steel door was blown in and the frames, filling a hollow compartment between a balcony roof and the roof of the building, ripped out the brick and mortar as if it had been paper.

Steel network of the plastering was peeled from the walls and hung along the balcony. The casing of the skylight buckled and warped under the force of the explosion and the broken glass was rained on the floor of the waiting-room three floors below.

DOORS SHATTERED

The suction after the explosion shattered glass doors reinforced with steel. Compression in the hollow centre of the building packed air into the halls and staircases, and when this force was released by the blast the air rushed back into the centre of the building, smashing the doors with the force of battering rams.

Heavy fumes hung about the building, and for two hours after the blast rescuers were unable to remain inside for long intervals.

The explosion came at a few seconds past 11.30 a.m. A clock on the third floor landing stopped at that time.

The fumes were so strong as to act almost instantly. Pedestrians caught outside the building toppled to the ground and lay unconscious until dragged to safety when the gas lifted. One woman smashed a third floor window and was preparing to leap as firemen spread a lifnet. She stood poised, the amber gas swirled about her shoulders and she collapsed, falling inside the building. Some reached unbroken windows, pounded weakly against the glass, and then dropped from sight as the gas choked them. Most of the victims lay clutching their throats, stifled and fighting at the last for air.

ELEVATOR MAN ESCAPES

Stephen Weiser, elevator operator, was in his car in the basement. He shot the car to the fifth floor penthouse and escaped with burns about the face and hands. Two workmen in a coal bin below the X-ray film storage room were jarred but not otherwise injured.

Some of those given oxygen immediately after their removal were expected to live. Here was despaired of for others where the noxious poison had destroyed the membranes of the lungs.

One policeman described the scene as worse than his experiences in the Great War. He had carried out twenty-five bodies, he said. Dr. Carl Helwig, an interne at another hospital, went to Mount Sinai Hospital to aid in resuscitation and came upon his wife, who had gone to the clinic for examination. She died as he worked to save her.

Louis Sobul, whose appointment was cancelled, walked through the structure an instant before the explosions. Sobul said he turned to see victims with their clothes torn away fighting at the windows for air. Billows of gas swept about them and he fled to Huron Road Hospital to spread the alarm as the fumes filled the street.

INQUIRY STARTED

The Cleveland clinic was established by Dr. Crile a few years ago, and rapidly rose to a place of prominence in the city's medical centre. The surgeon, noted for his operations for goitre, associated himself with other physicians in the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, and in 1924 a hospital was built for the care of patients.

Official inquiry into the cause of the blast was opened immediately the bodies had been cleared away.

Coroner A. J. Pearse prepared plans for an inquest as fire department officials attempted to learn the origin of the fire. Doctors said they were baffled by the poisonous quality of the gas that took so many lives. Although pharmacists called it bromine gas, doctors said they thought it might be a form of a nitric gas.

Dr. John C. Phillips, one of the founders of the clinic, was among the seriously stricken. Four tanks of oxygen were used in efforts to save his life, but doctors said he probably would die before morning.

City officials established a special bureau of information tonight at Mount Sinai Hospital for the benefit of relatives of the dead and injured, and arrangements were made to broadcast additional information of the disaster by radio through station WTAM.

There were 360 patients registered at the clinic at the time of the explosion. Alter the fire and blast, all of them were either suffering from fire or poison gas or were dead.

HOW AMERICAN PUBLICATIONS AFFECT CANADA

Question Is Raised by Former Island Resident in Address in Relation to Empire Shopping

MAJ. HAYWARD HAS SUGGESTION

An interesting sidelight upon the Empire Shopping Week, to be held May 25 to June 1 throughout Canada, is afforded in a recent speech by Major W. H. Hayward, formerly a Member of the British Columbia Legislature, in addressing the Rotary Club of Coventry, England. He was pointing out the disproportionate value of the imports and exports of Canada to the United States, and quoted figures from Government records showing that last year they came into Canada from Great Britain general literature to the value of $2,140,000, while from the United States there came into Canada similar literature to the value of $8,589,000. Still more striking was the contrast he showed between the flood of American advertising matter into Canada and the trickle of British advertising. From Great Britain last year there came into Canada advertising publications to the value of $281,000, while from America there poured in publicity to the value of $2,290,000. There was not a home in all Canada, he believed, which did not every day and every week come under the powerful influence of the wonderful American printed publicity in favor of the purchase of United States goods, or goods made in Canada by American manufacturers in their Canadian branch factories.

Facts as to the purchasing power of the Canadian people were given by Major Hayward. He showed that the savings per capita of Canadians had risen from $33 in 1900 to $152 in 1928, and that the average purchasing power of every Canadian household had risen from $13 per annum in 1900 to $530 in 1929. Goods that were luxuries to the working people of the older lands, he emphasized, were everyday necessities to the people of Canada—a land in which 80 per cent of the people owned the homes in which they lived, and the land on which their homes were built.

EMPRESS RECITAL DELIGHTFUL EVENT

Dorothy L. Hicks, Lyric Soprano, and Beatrice Hicks, Pianist, Greeted With Enthusiasm

The Muses often make little use of heredity in choosing their favorites. But in the case of Dorothy Letitia Hicks, one of Victoria's favorite and most charming young singers, and Beatrice Hicks, whose pianistic gifts surprised and delighted the audience which nearly filled the Empress ballroom last evening, the fidelity of music was shown to a name which she has already made well known in song. The sisters' recital was an artistic joy from beginning to end, and stirred anew in many of the listeners a proud consciousness of the unusual amount of outstanding talent which the city possesses.

Miss Dorothy Hicks' success in the concert field is due almost as much to her very winning personality as to her unusually pretty and exquisitely trained voice. Before she sings a note she has won the hearts of her audience. When to this charming presence she adds a voice buoyant, clear and youthful, in which a refined technique has been superimposed, she has the essential assets of a successful artist. Her four groups of song last night were happily chosen for the display of the voice. At the same time they disclosed a cultured taste which the quality of the voice endorsed. One of the most delightful features of her singing is that it repays the listener who listens most attentively for she makes much of the finer details, the delicate little touches which a word sometimes suggests, the pronounced or a phrase. Her art is sophisticated rather than spontaneous, the sentiment is premeditated rather than instinctive, but there is in consequence an exquisiteness in its expression, a refinement in its moods, whether wistful or gay, which reward the attentive ear. The sunny sentiment of youth, the healthy sweetness of springtime was in the broader sense, the general impression left by her songs.

In her first (modern) group were "Song of the Robin," "Up On the Top of the Hill" (a special favorite), and Curran's "Ho, Mr. Piper." It would have been better had she sung the aria from "La Boheme," "Mi Chiamano Mimi," a little later in the programme after the voice attained its maximum warmth, but her interpretation was highly artistic, not only vocally but also in sentiment. In her group of classic songs Monar's "The Violet," an exquisite bit of sophistication, and Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," very beautifully interpreted, with a touch of wistfulness within the melody, were especially popular. Brahms' "Little Dustman" and "The First Primrose" were daintily treated. In the two succeeding groups the special favorites were two French folk songs, "Que se nous je le Voyiez," the sweetly sedate "Lisette," by Haydn, "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," with a pretty peasant note colouring the lament, and the very beautiful pastoral by Verselini which was the piece de resistance of her programme, unless one considers the encores, "The Daisy," and Lisa Lehmann's "Nobody Loves Me but My Daddy" and "The Icicle," all of which were delightful.

As already commented, the pianist, Beatrice Hicks, gave her audience a delightful surprise, and everyone will hope to hear her shortly in a recital of her own. She was limited last evening to the two programme pieces, both Brahms' numbers, and the little encore which she gave in response to tumultuous applause. Her playing has great nicety in execution, but with this a maturity, brilliance and power of expression which startled her audience. The Rhapsody in E Flat, with its crashing chords and massive style, particularly roused admiration, showing fine unity of conception, introspection and musical feeling. The Caprice in B Minor and her encore numbers displayed admirable nicety of touch, and a generally interesting style. Her playing of her sister's accompaniments was charmingly sympathetic.

CONCERT GIVEN AT ST. MARY'S HALL

A delightful concert was given in St. Mary's Hall, Vernon, on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the evening branch of St. Mary's Women's Auxiliary.

The evening was a most enjoyable one, the artists all having to respond with encores to the demands of an appreciative audience. The first half of the programme was as follows: Pianoforte solo, "Valse Fantastique," Miss Grace Allen; Gypsy dance, Miss D. Borrowman; vocal solo, "The Bandolero," Mr Charles Blierwood recitation, "The Convict Ship," Mr. R. F. Blandy; tap dance, Miss D. Hamlet; vocal solo, "Bird of Love Divine," Mrs. Darling; violin and piano trio, "Gavotte," Miss D. Francis, Miss T. Parker and Miss F. Cockill.

The accompanists were Mrs N. Sherwood and Mr Arthur Bird, Miss Grace Allen played during the interval.

The second half of the programme consisted of a humorous sketch by Arthur Finero, entitled "The Playgoers." Those taking part were Miss May Pack, Mr. Norman Pack, Mr. H. Llewellyn, Miss Pat Wells, Miss M. Nickerson, Miss N. Sherwood, Miss N Price and Miss L. Garland.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

SHIRLEY

Shirley Women's Institute regular meeting last Saturday afternoon took the form of a silver tea held at the home of Mrs E. T. Arden, Sheringham Point. There was a good attendance of members and the president, Mrs. W. J. Milligan, was in the chair. Considerable discussion took place on flower shows, etc., and better babies' clinics, as suggested by circular sent out. It was decided that, as the institute is so small and too far away from another institute to join forces, as suggested, nothing could be done along these lines. Some sewing will be done for the little patients at the Solarium over. The proceeds of the tea were voted into the Institute Funds. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Brenner, when it is hoped to have a full attendance of members, as Mrs J. D. Gordon of Victoria, is expected to address the meeting and help with new suggestions along the line of institute work. Mrs. S. Gardiner assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments. Before the meeting adjourned a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Arden.

JUNGFRAU HOTEL OPENED

What is declared to be one of the most remarkable hotels in the world has been completed on the Jungfrau. It is on the shoulder just below the crest of the giant mountain in Switzerland. The building was excavated rather than built, as most of the structure consisting of five stories, is actually within the mountain. Everything in the hotel is operated by electricity. Access is gained by a tunnel from the terminal station of the railway.

CLOVELLY GARDEN IS MUCH ENJOYED

Through the kindness of Mr. A. J. Woodward, who opened his beautiful gardens at "Clovelly," North Quadra Street, to the public on Saturday afternoon last and again yesterday, a large number of visitors were enabled to view the delightful grounds. "Clovelly," the charming residence, is set in acres of oak trees, and a long drive leads up to the house from the road, which is now edged on either side with beds of bright blue forget-me-nots and pink tulips. Nearer the house the rocks are ablaze with yellow alyssum and purple aubretia, and numerous other showy blooms. The layout is delightfully informal, and from the upper levels a marvelous view is to be enjoyed of the mountains and sea. At the back of the home the woods are carpeted with wild flowers, the blue camass being particularly brilliant at this season. Visitors will be welcomed again next Saturday.

Night airplane service between Brussels and London is to be established next July.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The vogue of the bloused skirt, belted at the normal waistline, has culminated in the adoption of simple sports shirts and skirts worn in the manner of the old-time shirt waist costume.

Here is an attractive example of this idea. A separate pleated and flared skirt is worn over a sunback blouse that has a self vest with buttons to match those on the skirt yoke. This is developed in charmeuse crepe and with with a green felt vagabond hat that carries a green, yellow and orange band to match the belt on the dress.

All-Canadian Phone Line Is Being Planned

EDMONTON, May 15.—Planning an all-Canadian telephone line between East and West, which might be in operation this Summer, prominent telephone company officials arrived in the city on Tuesday for a conference with the Provincial Government. In the party are H. L. Harris, executive vice-president, of the Associated Telephone & Telegraph Company, Chicago; W. N. Curtis, vice-president and general sales manager of the Automatic Electric Company, Inc., Chicago, who are accompanied by O. H. Baker, chairman of the British Columbia Telephone Company board.

On Wednesday morning the visiting officials had a conference with Hon. V. W. Smith, Minister of Railways and Telephones, and outlined the proposition. At present, Alberta and British Columbia are the only two provinces that have interprovincial telephone service. Now it is planned to link up all the provinces so that calls may be handled on an all-Canadian line without having to utilize services in the United States. After leaving here the officials will confer with the governments in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Mr Baker will go on to Ottawa while the others will return to Chicago.

"Courage to scrap ruthlessly old-fashioned methods, and imagination in exploring every commercial avenue overseas." The exhibition is designed not merely to demonstrate the distinct past and present triumphs in engineering and shipbuilding, but to give evidence of the ambition to create and encourage new industries in which the new national scheme for co-ordination of electric resources is expected to be most helpful.

You Are Sure of Being NOURISHED If You Take BOVRIL

VANCOUVER, May 15.—A coroner's jury yesterday found that Mrs. Dorothy Chester came to her death at the intersection of Dunsmuir and Hornby Streets Saturday afternoon in an automobile collision caused by lack of judgment and lack of experience on the part of Fred Eyre. Eyre was the driver of one of the automobiles which figured in the collision.

All Entries Received for Whippet Derby and Horse Races at Willows Track

Hoofs will clatter and white streaks of muscle, bone and sinew will flash past the finishing post of the Willows race track to give the large crowd that is expected to attend the Canadian Whippet Derby and horse racing on the afternoon of May 24 the thrill of their lives. All entries for the whippet Derby and horse races have been received, Mr. Harold Palmer, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday. The race meet is being held as part of Victoria's annual May 24 celebration programme.

The races will commence at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The whippet races will alternate with the horse races. One of the features of the day will be to see the famous whippet Sarah Porter, holder of the American speed record, owned and trained by Mr. James Mallandain, of Vancouver, in action. Sarah Porter is the fastest thing on four legs and to see her in action is to be convinced.

Entries for the whippet races will be run under the direction of the Greater Vancouver Whippet Association. Several Victoria entries have been received for the Derby. Nineteen entries have been received altogether. They are as follows:

Ben Junior, entered by James Mallandain, of Vancouver. Lone, entered by F. Pamplin, of Vancouver. Taffy's Chine, entered by Mrs. C. E. Chaspe, of Victoria. Jimmy, entered by Mr. A. Page, of Vancouver. Sarah Porter, entered by Mr. James Mallandain, of Vancouver. Green Meore, entered by Mr. F. Pamplin, of Vancouver. Nigger, entered by Mr. J. O. Nissen, of Victoria. The Maggie, entered by Mr. J. W. Talbot, of Vancouver. Sherbrook Lad, entered by Mr. W. Thompson, of Vancouver. Blue-ite, entered by Mr. R. Cliff, of Vancouver. True Blue, Jr., entered by Mr. W. Cliff, of Vancouver. Barney, entered by Mr. W. Thompson, of Vancouver. Johann, entered by Mr. P. W. McLeod, of Vancouver. Danny, entered by Mr. R. Simpson, of Vancouver. Blue Belle, entered by Mr. R. James, of Vancouver. Dogles Trot, entered by Mr. G. O'Brien, of Vancouver, and Lady of Penmaenmawr, entered by Mr. R. Krylowich, of Vancouver.

The horse racing will be held under the direction of Mr. W. R. Mearns, secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association. The first race will be at 2:45 p.m. This is for thoroughbreds over a half-mile track. The entries for this race are Guinea Gold, Grey Lep, Molly L. and Rob Roy.

At 3:25 p.m., jumping in centre field will take place. Entries for this event are Lancer, Ginger, Winsome Sis, Gold Lad, Paddy Duren, Flyaway, Patsy and Jane.

The jumps will also be for thoroughbreds over a three-eighths of a mile course. The entries are Bear Tamer, Tattern, Glitter Gold and Uzan.

A saddle horse race for ladies over a half-mile course will be the next feature. The entries are Gay Lad, Jarrocks, Rob Roy, Mustard and Blue Bird.

Three entries have been received for the open event with catch weights, over a half-mile track. The entries are Al Wick, Alberta Lad and Teddy.

At the circus there was a girl who rode beneath the horse, on the horse's neck, and almost on his tail.

"That's nothing, I did all that the first time I rode a horse."

LOCAL RESIDENT IN TURNER VALLEY

Burning of Surplus Gas Illuminates Landscape, Says Mr. N. Van der Vliet

Mr. N. Van der Vliet, of the firm of Chinsky, Hall & Company, Victoria, has just returned from a visit to the Turner Valley. He flew by plane from Calgary to the offfields and to the adjacent Waite Valley and New Black Diamond, the latter which are being watched with interest by operators. On Saturday he went to the Turner Valley by car, and visited the south end of the field. The Maryland well was being cleaned out and a fine grade oil, flow at the rate of 1,000 barrels the hole. Preparations are being made to drill through to the lime and set the cement.

It is now generally admitted the southern end of the field extends considerably further south than the original geological map indicated. Since his last visit to the Turner Valley a year ago great changes have taken place. A large number of new derricks have covered the structure and heavy machinery is being constantly hauled in over the road which makes the road from Okotoks to the valley almost impassable in spots. The flames burning the surplus gas from producing wells extend all along the field, and it is estimated that about 100,000,000 cubic feet are burned every day. There is talk in Calgary about eventually piping the gas to Regina and Winnipeg.

Much stress is laid upon the active development taking place on other structures adjacent to the Turner Valley. Waite, Highwood, as well as the Chost River and Milk River structures. Speaking to technical men and geologists, he stated that they all expressed confidence in the potential possibilities of these fields. American and English capital is becoming interested in various holdings. From a development point of view the Turner Valley is expected to double its production by the end of this year, which would very shortly bring it out of the pioneering stage from which it is now emerging, there being about twenty-three actually producing wells.

Sir R. Falconer Declines Honor In Old Country

TORONTO, May 15.—Sir Robert Falconer announced last night that he had declined an offer of the position of vice-chancellor and principal of the University of Edinburgh. Sir Robert is president of the University of Toronto.

"At my time of life it is a trifle too late to begin work of such an arduous and honorable nature in the Old Land," Sir Robert said in giving his reasons for declining the position.

GOLD SHIPMENTS ARE QUESTIONED

OTTAWA, May 15.—Canada's gold shipments to the United States and the parity of Canadian exchange are subjects of a series of questions placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by J. A. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre.

Mr. Woodsworth asks:

"Has the Minister of Finance refused to permit the banks to ship gold to the United States? If so under what authority would it take sixty million dollars to bring the Canadian exchange back to parity? Is there sixty million dollars of gold in the central gold reserve? Why did the department change its form of statement of circulation and specie as of the date of December 31, 1928? Was the reserve ratio 50.3 or 39.4 March 31, 1929? Can Dominion notes including 'legals' be redeemed in gold? If not are we then on a gold basis?"

ATTACKS AMERICAN HABIT OF PARKING

TORONTO, May 15.—A correspondent writes to Bride Broder, of The Mail and Empire saying "More power to your elbow when you attack that horrid habit introduced into Canada from the United States, of taking the fork into the right hand, and, as someone put it, parking the knife. One correspondent speaks of eating pies with a fork—well, what else could one do, but I don't take my fork in my right hand to do it." Another habit she attacks is that of advertising "homes" for sale. "We read of a home for sale, or rent, in spite of the fact that you cannot build a home with bricks and mortar, and it is not a home until you are living in it and make it such," she writes.

Coalition Forecast

OTTAWA, May 15.—A coalition government will come into power in Great Britain following the general election, Sir George Croydon Marks, a member of the British House of Commons from 1906 to 1924, declared last night on his arrival in Ottawa. In his opinion the Conservative party will secure a majority of the seats, but it will not be sufficient to form a government. Lloyd George is considered a chance to win.

Sir George is in Ottawa for a few days solely for business purposes.

SUSPECT RELEASED

VANCOUVER, May 15.—Fred A. Leslie, Hastings Street West, who was held by detectives for investigation after an hour-and-a-half spectacular holdup in Leonard's Cafe, Granville Street, early Tuesday, was today released. Police are satisfied that he had no connection with the affair.

Alleged by some to be one of the bandits, Fred Prinsier, man-teen, is in a serious condition at The General Hospital suffering from internal injuries sustained when an automobile in which he was riding crashed into a train on the Interurban after the holdup. He refused to talk to detectives.

Effective May 13, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1:45.

The right foods to help you gain weight

by Mary Blake

If you are actually underweight or hard to gain while—and I can scarcely imagine such a degree of slenderness exists—you are lucky as compared with most of us, for you can eat in sublime unconcern about the number of calories that are totalling themselves up into prodigious figures in the head before you.

But this superb nonchalance isn't enough to put those desired pounds on you. Errors in diet may be the very thing responsible for your underweight.

While poor appetite may be caused by lack of exercise, worry, too much excitement, fatigue, it is often due to eating between meals, especially sweets; poor choice of foods, too many salads and sweets and not enough nourishing food; irregular meals. Eating between meals may not be a disadvantage, if you choose such things as fruit, cocoa and milk, and if your eating them does not destroy your appetite for the next meal.

Some suggestions for your diet

Concentrated foods will help you put on weight. Sugar, fats, cream are all good weight builders. Cheese is also a highly concentrated food. Plenty of butter in the cooking will help you energy from over-thinness, candy and cake are fattening, if you eat them at the end of the meal, instead of between meals. Cream soups are good for you, because they supply a generous quantity of milk and milk is one of the things building your weight.

Every individual needs a quart of milk a day, you particularly requiring the body-building elements which it supplies. Milk, you may not remember, is the most nearly perfect food we have, containing everything needed for body health, growth and activity. If you don't want to drink all this milk, use it in cooked dishes—cream soups, creamed vegetables, milk puddings.

In increasing your milk allowance, I would suggest that you use Carnation Milk in your cooking. It has definite advantages that ordinary bottled milk does not offer. For example, it is of uniformly high quality, always dependable, always pure and sweet and wholesome. Evaporated to double creaminess, it enriches everything in which it is used. Not only that, but Carnation-made dishes are a real lure to appetite. They are richer, smoother, creamier, with a fine, velvety texture due to the "homogenization" of Carnation, by which the cream globules are broken up into minutest particles.

Because of its richness, Carnation goes much further than other milks, avoids the waste of spoilage. Not only is it economical, but you will find it extremely convenient.

Send for the free Carnation Cook Book, with its many recipes helpful in building your weight. Address Carnation Milk Products Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B. C.

Rich and Creamy

Doubly rich in cream, Carnation Milk makes—and economically—delectable puddings and custards, velvety ice creams, smooth rich sauces and soups. Such tempting goodness no appetite can resist!

"from Contented Cows"

on the label means EVAPORATED MILK of highest quality

LIBERAL CAMPAIGN IS DESCRIBED AS CHEERFUL FUNERAL

LONDON, May 15.—Right Hon. Lord Birkenhead, speaking at Preston last night on behalf of the Conservative candidate, said the Liberals had been fighting gallantly.

"Never has there been a more cheerful, valiant and talkative funeral," he claimed.

Wisal Labor leader, he asked, had ever produced competent to establish or conduct business?

"They cannot even conduct their own trade unions. They ruin them," he said.

PLADNER WINNER OF TAME BATTLE

PARIS, May 15.—Emil Pladner, of France, and Kid Francis, New York Italian, fought an uninteresting twelve-round draw here tonight. They met at catch weights.

Duchess to Fly

LONDON, May 15.—The Duchess of Bedford, who was forced down by engine trouble near Bushim, Persia, last year, while attempting a flight to India, is planning another attempt at a nonstop flight within four weeks. The same plane, the Princess Xenia, is being repaired. The Duchess, who is sixty-three years of age, will share the controls with Captain C. D. Barnard.

JURY URGES MERCY

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 15.—Guilty, with a strong recommendation for mercy, was the verdict brought in Tuesday afternoon by the jury in the case of Jim Wallace, twenty-two, Indian, charged with manslaughter.

An Indian drinking debauch, in which four men took part on March 31, resulted in the death of Lee Kas Tai at the rear of the Chinese section of Chilliwack, the evidence showed. A murder charge against Wallace was reduced by the grand jury to one of manslaughter.

DETECTIVE SLAIN

CHICAGO, May 15.—Detective Ray Martin was shot and killed late today in an attempt to trap an extortion gang which had kidnapped Paul Blumenthal, reputed millionaire bootlegger. The slayers escaped under a fusillade of bullets from other officers.

"Yes, sirs, every month impressed by all these explanations I have been giving you about banking and currency."

"Yes, Charlie, dear," replied Mrs Turkins. "It seems perfectly wonderful that anybody could know so much as you do about money without having any."

Four thousand auto buses in London are to be equipped with windshields.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain How to Prevent

Medical authorities state that nearly all cases of the case of stomach trouble indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, nausea, vomiting, pain, are due to the excess of hyperacidity, and in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, inflamed, and the nerves send sharp shooting the discomfort which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and do not cure the cause. Bisurated Magnesia and other alkalies and antacids get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This will prevent the acids from ever the formation of excess acid and stop the indigestion, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia is powder or tablet form never liquid or milk; is harmless to the most delicate stomach; is alkaline, the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Adv.)

"I want you, Lane," said John Wade. "We don't care for a dozen slon in public, do we?"

A taxicab, crawling along the edge of the curb, moved up. Wade opened the door and went in ahead of the prisoner, gripping his wrist. The detective, who had kept in the background up to now, followed.

"I don't suppose you've got a gun?" said Wade. "By the way, we picked up your taxi friend and found your artillery parked under the seat."

"I don't know what you're talking about—" began Lane.

"So few people do" said Wade. "I've never arrested a man yet who wasn't as innocent as a babe. You were seen getting out of the cab and trailed up the Haymarket. I did a little work in the Strand myself and picked you up across the square. Your little soldiers will cry for their colonel tonight."

"You're talking Greek to me."

"I've been talking lecoma from Colly," said Wade cheerfully.

As a result of rumors of war among tramptoms of Northern Ireland, the workhouse at Omagh has been filled with knights of the road. The list of volunteers grew until the hospitality of Omagh was taxed. Omagh officials would welcome a counter rumor of peace. No woodpiles or anything else to step the invasion of panhandlers.

'SIMBA' SHOWS ON CAPITOL SCREEN

Big Game Picture De Luxe Taken in Africa by Johnsons Featured Today

The last fifteen minutes of "Simba," the motion picture record of four years in the African jungles by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, which is at the Capitol Theatre today, Friday and Saturday, are exciting enough for an evening's entertainment. The spectacle of a handful of African natives armed only with spears and shields facing and slaying full-grown lions, will thrill anyone to the core. The courage of these blacks who are determined to destroy the ravagers of their flocks is something that could not be believed if it were not recorded by the camera.

There are zebras, giraffes, hippos, rhinos, enormous elephants, leopards, antelopes, ostriches and a host of others. One of the greatest scenes of the picture is the stampede of a herd of elephants, terrorized by a jungle fire. This, incidentally, gave the Johnsons a real thrill, because they, too, were in the path of the flames and narrowly escaped being trampled by the elephants in their rush for safety.

On the stage the vaudeville includes Lee Jaxon and Billie Rhenne in their latest song hits and comedy patter; Larry DeLaney, the well-known comedian, and Scott and Van Valley in a novelty piano and singing specialty, along with Chris Wade and his Capitol Stage Band and Jack Medford, the singing and dancing master of ceremonies.

The Foreign Legion Will Show Today On Columbia Screen

A thrilling drama between father and son, with a background of the burning sands of Black Morocco. This is the theme of "The Foreign Legion," showing today, Friday and Saturday at the Columbia Theatre. "The Foreign Legion" deals with the life of a private soldier in the most famous military organization of the world. This picture, directed by Carl Lemmle, shows clearly the hardships and discipline which "The Foreign Legion" have to suffer. Norman Kerry and Lewis Stone are in the leading role, supported by Mary Nolan.

DOMINION Debate regarding the THEATRE possibility of a perfect alibi for a murderer was responsible for the writing of "The Canary Murder Case." The Babe Ruth of record-breaking others, all this week which Paramount transferred to the screen and which shows at the Dominion Theatre again today. The story of the origin of the plot of the novel was revealed by S. S. Van Dine, mysterious author of the original tale.

FUN FOR ALL AT CIRCUS NOW SHOWING HERE

One of the features of the elite shows at the circus, Equimalli, is little "Bizer-Bizer's animal act—a set-of-hand artist and one of the most versatile entertainers who has ever performed beneath a tent. Passing his arms through knotted ropes and releasing himself from bonds are only a few minor achievements of this diminutive wonder.

Shouting "This is hot!" Bizer puts a blazing gas-soaked torch in his mouth. Minutes after it has been removed he puffs out jets of flame much to the amusement of the onlookers.

Hot dog vendors and game supervisors as well as the different ballyhoo men, have kept the crowds in continuous fits of laughter with their patter, while performing animals and other animals have added to the hilarity of the spectators.

A sword swallower, who notes twenty-six inches of cold steel down his throat, a mind reader, who tells you your past, present and future, Hollywood's fat lady, a diminutive Houdini, and many other attractions have furnished an abundance of amusement and thrills to visitors at the Conklin & Garrett shows, now playing at the corner of Fraser Street and Esquimalt Road.

Freaks, an armless artist, a tattooed man and other marvels make a visit to the circus replete with entertainment.

The show will continue daily until Saturday night, opening at 1 p.m. and closing shortly after 11 p.m.

Dance Music

One of the most wonderful instruments, a large pipe organ, will be heard tonight over CFCT, Victoria radio station, when the weekly organ recital is presented to the approval of radio listeners. Edward Parsons will be assisted this evening by Miss Dorothy Hartree, contralto soloist, whose success in the recent local musical festival is of forth such high commendation from the adjudicators. Miss Hartree will contribute two groups of contralto songs, while Edward Parsons, the Sunset organist, will be seated at the console throughout the hour. The programme will open at 6.15 with "March in F" by Wallis, and an "Aria" by Lotti, after which a delightful song from Ouiseau's "Songs From the Turkish Hills," entitled "Let the Slaves," will be offered by Miss Hartree. The programme also includes two short preludes and fugues, one in A Minor and the other in B Flat Major by John Sebastian Bach, master of the fugue. Miss Miss Hartree will again be heard in contralto solos, while the nightly hour with the Sunset Broadcasters will close with Raff's "Cavatina" and Wareing's "Coronation March."

From 11 o'clock until midnight dance music will be in vogue over CFCT, when the Crystal Garden Orchestra is heard in the nightly hour of the latest dance offerings, closing CFCT's broadcasting for tonight.

Their Long Research Has Ended Gloriously!

And their new products are ready to serve you in a hundred better ways

MONTHS of work in the laboratory. Failures, disappointments, new starts—and in the end, complete victory—a group of fine products perfected.

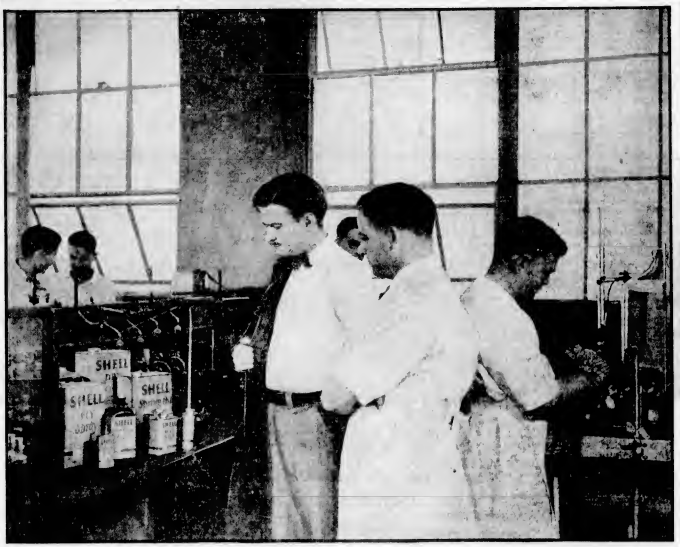
That, in brief, is the story of these chemists who have developed Shell's new line of specialties.

Every one of the products meets some urgent need. They make household tasks easier or do better jobs or overcome some problem that formcr goods failed to meet.

Take Shell Furniture Polish, for example. There have been many polishes. But some were too oily. Others wouldn't remove stains; others smudged; still another required constant shaking. The new Shell Furniture Polish is applied with a dry cloth. Wipe it off and instantly you have a hard clean finish. Scratches and stains are gone; no greasy film remains.

Fly sprays would all kill flies. But some left ugly yellow stains on curtains and walls. Shell chemists perfected a stainless spray.

So on, through the list. Every package brings you new benefits, new improvements. It is a research job well done!



Many months ago in the Shell Laboratories a group of chemists started work on a half dozen special products. Their job is finished now—the new products are ready for you to use

Hudson's Bay and Navy Will Battle In Football Final

Departmentals Defeat Rennie & Taylor, 3-2, While Sailors Trounce Saanich United, 4-2, in McKay Shield Soccer Tussles

Hudson's Bay and Navy will battle in the final of the McKay Shield soccer competition as the result of their victories yesterday. In the twin bill played at Beacon Hill, Hudson's Bay defeated their ancient rivals, Rennie & Taylor, 3-2, while the Navy took the count of Saanich United, 4-2.

NAVY WINS

Three goals by Sprindell and one by Cosier gave the Navy a 4-2 victory over Saanich United in the curtain-raiser. Hawkins and Ralph scored for the losers, the former on a penalty in the first half. Played during a heavy wind and on a field partly covered with long grass, the teams turned in a listless performance.

Starting with ten men, Saanich United were for the better part of the first half on the defense. After numerous attempts to score, Sprindell broke the ice with a neat shot at close range ten minutes before the first period.

Taking up the offensive from the centre, Saanich United equalized with a penalty kick given for handa. However Sprindell came to the rescue of the tars and put them in the lead again shortly before the half-time whistle.

Sprindell netted his third counter halfway through the second half and then the sailors seemed to be content with their lead.

Saanich United livened things up towards the end of the game when Ralph scored with a stinging drive from the left wing.

The Navy repeated the attack and Cosier put the game in the cooler with a well-placed shot. Armstrong refereed, and the teams were:

Navy—Zanetti, Plummer, Barnes, C. White, Wait, A. Whyte, Plumley, Roberts, Sprindell, Robinson and Cosier.

Saanich United—Restall, Blanch, Barry, Skonier, Burns, Tyson, Warring, Hawkins, Blanco, Troop and Ralph.

BAYS BEAT BAKERS

The Hudson's Bay team beat Rennie & Taylor's soccer outfit by 3-2 in the second game.

Despite the excellent form shown on both sides, the element of luck played a big part. The wind, which had been blowing steadily during the early part of the day had freshened into something closely resembling a gale from the southwest by the time the ball was kicked off. The centre of the ground was a veritable desert of dust, and multitude whirlwinds continually made visibility difficult. Owing to the strength of the wind the ball got out of control if it was lifted a few feet into the air, and the goal kicks from the north end of the ground seldom traveled more than a few yards.

Rennie & Taylor won the toss and concentrated upon an intensive bombardment of the Bays' goal. Some ten minutes after the start there was a scrimmage in front of the Bays' goal, and Percy Shrimpton ran out in an attempt to save the situation, but Taylor was too quick for him and booted the ball home.

It was not long, however, before Bob Addie brought the scores level, striking the ball into the net from a beautiful centre by Bill Cull. Shortly before the half-time Pish added to the Bays' score with a pretty long shot in the fresh of the wind.

During the second half Cull brought the Hudson's Bay score up to three with a nice shot, kept close to the ground and traveling hard. Ten minutes before the end of the game the Bays fouled in front of their own goal. Archie McKinnon took the free kick and Davie scored with a hard shot at close quarters.

Albert Hewitson refereed, and the teams were

Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton (capt.), Cardore, Armstrong, Pish, Woodley, Keechin, Addie, Obre, Hamer, Pish and Cull.

Rennie & Taylor—Nex, Gilbert, Newman, McKinnon, Tupman (capt.), Stewart, Taylor, Wright, Davis, Purdie and Davie.

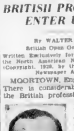
HAGEN TO PLAY WITH PRINCE

Open Champion Honored by H.R.H. — Match Will Be Played Saturday and Sunday

BRITISH PROS MAY ENTER U.S. OPEN

By WALTER HAGEN
Former Open Golf Champion
Written Exclusively for The Associated Newspapers and Newspaper Alliance
Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance

MIDDLETOWN, England, May 15.—There is considerable talk among the British professionals about organizing a visit to America in June to try for open golf championship of the United States but nothing definite has been decided as yet. Compston, Cotton and Bonner favor the project, if the golf clubs will grant the necessary leaves of absence.



WALTER HAGEN

Though I began with two fives against me and missed two short putts in the match today, I got two long putts down and shot a seventy for the aggregate of 128.

Watrous had ground with two sixes, taking 74 and making his total 144, tying Diegel and Compston, each of whom got a 73 today to add to his 71 of yesterday.

Joe Jurado, who played a good low ball in the wind, was another 74, with a total of 148.

Dudley was out of bounds at the seventeenth hole and took a seven, finishing the round in 75, with a total of 149.

Horton Smith went into the ditch and was bunkered at the first hole. He took an eight to get out and make 77, with a total of 152. Joe Turnesa putted poorly on the heavy greens and shot a 75, with a total of 153.

I have been honored by an invitation to play the Prince of Wales on Saturday or Sunday next on a course near London and am delighted to accept.

It will be on Saturday, if I am not in the Leeds final.

Turnesa, with the other players who made 152, play off for the prize for the remaining six qualifying places.

All other Americans have qualified except Cooper, who retired.

Tilden and Hunter to Play in French Championship — "Big Bill" Likes Davis Cup Team

CHERBOURG, May 15.—Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, America's first and second ranking tennis players, arrived today on the Aquitania and left for Paris. Tilden, consider we have as good if not a better chance than last year to bring the Davis Cup home," said Tilden. Hunter agreed. They said they had both declared themselves available for cup play.

Tilden and Hunter said they would play in the French championships, opening Monday, in singles and men's doubles. Hunter also will pair with Miss Helen Wills in mixed doubles.

Later Tilden and Hunter will proceed to Amsterdam for the Dutch championships, June 4, and thence to Wimbledon for the British classic.

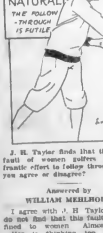
GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

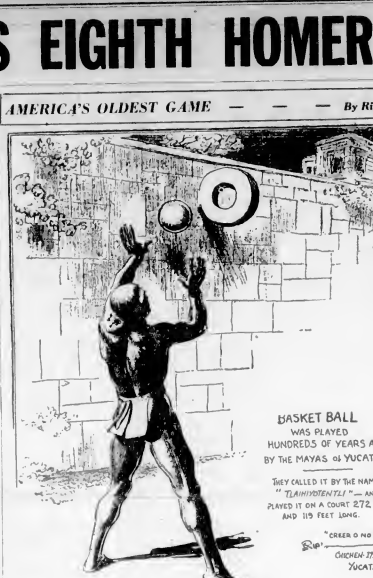


J. H. Taylor finds that the great fault of women golfers is a frantic effort to follow through. Do you agree or disagree?

Answered by
WILLIAM MEHLHORN

I agree with J. H. Taylor, but I do not find that this fault is confined to women. Almost every golfer is thinking too seriously throughout the swing, with a consequent tensing of muscles, instead of trying to relax himself mentally which would result in a naturalness that is essential to good golf. The follow-through is not natural. It will be futile.

AMERICA'S OLDEST GAME — By Ripley



CHICHEN-ITZA, Yucatan, May 14.—The Sir San Jacinto, anchored some four miles off the coast of Yucatan, and washed in the swirling heat until a tugboat saved me from incineration and eventually deposited me at the sun-scorched and flies-bitten town nicknamed Progreso. Thence to Merida, some thirty miles inland, a little city, which has more windmills than the whole country of Holland—and then 125 more hot miles to Dzitas—and then thirty more hotter miles and I was in Chichen Itza, the ancient and mystifying ruins of the Mayas.

The ruined city of Chichen-Itza are not only the most important ruins in Yucatan, but they are probably the most unique and beautiful in the Western hemisphere—a jungle-entangled collection of the pulsing relics of a highly civilized people who lived and loved and worked in this sun-blistered land ages before Columbus was born.

But I must tell you about the first American game—the game of basketball. We have been led to believe that basketball is a brand new game invented by a Y.M.C.A. instructor some thirty-five years ago. I thought so, too—until today. Basketball is the oldest game in this hemisphere. The ancient Mayas played it hundreds of years ago, and on a far greater scale than we do today.

I have just come off the ancient basketball court of these people. It is situated near the Castillo of Kukulcan—the pool of sacrifice in which the young Inca maidens were thrown as votive offerings to their gods many centuries ago. The "Temple of the Tigers" surmounts one wall of the court. McDrude, the "House of Dark Writing" is nearby.

The court is 272 feet wide and 119 feet long. It is called the Great Ball Court, or the "Tlachtli," and looks like a modern football field except that at each end are massive stone walls twenty-eight feet high and thirty-nine feet thick at the base. In the middle of each wall, twenty-four feet above the ground, and directly opposite each other, is a massive sculptured stone ring four feet in diameter, thirteen inches thick, and with a hole eighteen inches across. These rings represented the baskets of our modern game of basketball, and the ball was thrown through them to score. The Aztecs called this game "Tlahiyoteztli."

Eventually the Spanish Conquistadors carried this game back to Spain, where it is still played under the name of juego de pelota, and in Cuba under the name of hai-alai—and in all our schools and colleges under the name of basketball.

Lloyd Cann Clouts Homer as Tillicums Defeat Eagles 9-6

Last night's result—
Tillicums 9, Eagles 6.
Next game—Monday, Sidney vs. Sons of Canada.

Tillicums followed the pace set by their former colleagues of the Commercial League, the Jokers, by handing the 9-5 setback to the Eagles in a Senior Amateur League fixture at the Royal Athletic Park last night. The champions pounded Hoitson, on the mound for the birdmen, for eleven safeties, including a circuit swat by Cann, two doubles by Hilton and one apiece by Green and Dunnett.

Eagles nicked Cann for eight hits, which included four for extra bases by Eddie Rutledge. Each of the losers made consecutive hitting bee batters.

Cann's homer, which was the first of the season, came in the fourth inning with no one on the part of Holmes' high balls and clouted it over the left field fence.

In addition to the heavy clouting the kind of hitting that the fans like, there were numerous of bang-up ball, and than again, at times the boys were a little sloppy and allowed bad boners to creep into their play. The Tillicums committed five errors in this respect and in the third inning allowed their opponents to check in three runs without a hit.

GAME BY SCORE

When the clubmen came to bat in the last of the third, the score board read Eagles 3, Tillicums 1. At this stage of the game our boys started to unleash clouted. Holmes' offerings were the victims and scored four runs which tied up the score.

Cann, youthful moundsman, put the Tillicums out in front in the next session when he lifted one of Holmes' high balls over the left-field fence.

Four hits in the sixth gave the clubmen three additional markers and put the game in the lekbox.

The birdmen's seventh inning rally was frustrated when Steve Dunc was put out trying to steal home and McDonald trying to steal third. Easler checked in with the Eagles' lone and last counter of the game.

GLENNA COLLETT ADVANCES EASILY

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 15.—The weather cleared and sent over the famous links today, where Joyce Wethered, the British three and three times winner of the women's golf championship, won two easy victories in the morning round. Miss Wethered defeated Miss Stewart, 5 and 3, and in the afternoon, Mrs. Percy Garon, 3 and 1.

Mrs. J. P. Mackenzie, of Toronto, who had come through her previous matches in good form, met the redoubtable Glenna Collett, champion of the United States, this afternoon and went down before the mechanically-sound play of the American. Miss Collett won, 7 and 6, after winning her morning match from Miss Beryl Brown.

Miss Enid Wilson, the English champion, Mrs. J. B. Watson, three times champion of Scotland, Miss Elsie Park and Miss Edith Leitch Guedalla—one of the famous golfing sisters—all came through to the quarter-finals with Miss Wethered and Miss Collett.

MARION HOLLINS BEATEN

Marion Hollins, former champion of the United States, defeated a fellow countrywoman, Miss Gertrude Beck, Rochester, Minn., in the morning, but fell before Edith Guedalla in the afternoon.

A balmy Spring day decorated the links as Miss Collett and Miss Brown started out this morning and a few of the spectators were prepared for the deluge that burst as the pair teed off at the short eighth. Big stones as big as beach pebbles, added to the hazards of putting Golf gives and a-ka no quarter from the weather in Scotland, and although the crowds thronged to the protection of bushes, the two slender lasses were told to play on.

Then the players started fighting their way up the fairway managing and lacking from left to right. Glenna won the hole with a four, and as the storm abated she continued to win the match at the sixteenth hole.

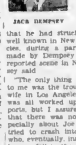
MONTREAL, May 15.—"I won't fight anyone for less then a million dollars," declared Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion boxer of the world, here today in refusing an offer of $250,000 for a match with Elzear Rioux, local heavyweight. The offer was made by Alec Moore, local promoter. Dempsey arrived here today on arrangements for the bouts he fought here June 4 and July 4. A denial that he had struck Jack Benjamin, well known in New York sports circles, during a party recently, was made by Dempsey. Discussing the disputing scene in New York, Dempsey said



JACK DEMPSEY

"The only thing that story meant was that I was the trouble it caused my wife in Los Angeles. Naturally she was all worked up about the report, but I assured her by phone that there was no truth in it, especially about Joe Benjamin who tried to crash into my room and who, eventually, instead of being hit by me, fell in the elevator."

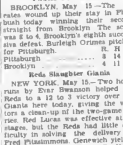
Ruth Would Be Lost Without Snuff



By AL DEMAREE
Former Pitcher Now Sells Giants

Babe Ruth never can get enough snuff. Many people do not know that Babe is a snuff taker, but probably is the world's greatest oldtime snuff user.

He uses only one brand, Copenhagen, and if that little box of snuff gets lost, Babe is a wild man until he finds it again.

On the golf links when among people he doesn't know Babe usually "smacks" his snuff.

There is a reason for snuff to Ruth's case. He has been afflicted with sinus trouble, the ball player's great trouble maker, and he sniffs snuff to clear out his nasal passages.

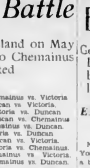
CLUB REJECTS TWO EX-HEAVY BOXING CHAMPS

Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey Fail to Get Membership in New York Athletic Association

EXCITEMENT HIGH OVER NEWS LEAK

NEW YORK, May 15.—The New York American said today there was a buzz of suppressed excitement at the New York Athletic Club over the, only some of efforts by both Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey to become members. The fact that Tunney had applied for membership last July was only revealed last night, when the former heavyweight champions after their monthly meeting failed to announce Dempsey's election. Members of the board explained that Dempsey's name never had been submitted by the membership committee.



GENE TUNNEY

The names of all applicants must first go to the membership committee, which is composed of five members. Three black balls are sufficient to prevent an application from being sent to the board of governors for final action. None of the membership committeemen would admit any black balls had been cast against Dempsey.

The American quoted Dr. John F. Connors, chairman of the committee, that favorably reported the Tunney application, as saying that Tunney was elected to membership by the board of governors but that "something must have happened," after the election, to cause his rejection.

HAGEN TOPS QUALIFIERS AT MOORTOWN

British Open Champion to Meet George Duncan in First Round of Thousand Guineas Tourney

ARCHIE COMPSTON FINISHES SECOND

MOORTOWN, Eng., May 15.—The draw for tomorrow's match play in the Thousand Guineas tournament for professional golfers, finds George Duncan again playing against the British open champion. In the Ryder Cup matches Duncan decisively defeated Hagen. The British-born Hagen finished his two days' qualifying play with 145, while Hagen had the whole field by a full five strokes, with 138. Hagen scored a 69 today.

Next to Hagen after the thirty-six holes had been played was the thirty-two competitors for the match play wooded out, came Archie Compston, with 144, Leo Diegel and Al Watrous of the invading forces, had the same scores.

Abe Mitchell was the second among his countrymen today with 146, one stroke behind Duncan. Ernest Whitcombe had 147, and Aubrey Boomer and Leslie Colton scored 148. Ed Dudley, Horton Smith and Joe Turnesa slipped seventy times today but managed to qualify, and as a consequence all of the seven American professionals find themselves listed for the match play.

The outstanding struggle tomorrow will be between Duncan and Hagen. Fortune decided that Diegel and Watrous, who were vying neck and neck in the qualifying play, will turn their weapons against each other in the first round, and one will cut the other out of the money in the bottom of the draw, while Hagen and Duncan are in the upper. Turnesa will play Ernest Whitcombe and Horton Smith will attempt to remove T. Barber.

Dudley's opponent is S. Sayner. Fred Robson, Jack Mitchell, Compston meets Boomer, and Charles Whitcombe will oppose Henry Cotton, among the all-British fights.

MUDDERS GIVEN MUCH ATTENTION

Heavy Track Expected at Churchill Downs Saturday for Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15.—Horses that can perform in the muck and like the sloppy going which may prevail at Churchill Downs Saturday, are objects of the closest attention of handicappers of Kentucky Derby candidates.

The track may be heavy, as it has been all this week so far, or it may not. But the question most frequently asked concerning any of the eligibles for the fifty-fifth running of the turf classic is, "Can he perform in the mud?"

Anyway, Wright City, Fred M. Grabner's entry, added a legion of supporters in the main yesterday when he romped to the wire ahead of ten other Derby candidates in the fifth and feature race at the Downs. The Derby candidate moved down on by Windy City's impressive performance were Paraphrase, Pot Harlem, Nashapur, Lord Broadland, The Chosen Knight, Prince Pat, Bullet, Double Heart and Botanical.

As a result of this contest, under colors, it is predicted that a number of additional withdrawals will result before the running of the Derby Saturday.

Much depends upon the condition of the track.

Entries must be in the hands of the secretary, Captain J. Y. Pyke, before 3 o'clock on May 28, when the draw will be made. It was decided that the ladies' captain will arrange to have a member to referee each game.

BULLS CHECKED BY RISING CALL MONEY RATES

Fifteen Per Cent Sufficient to Halt Operations and Induce Rather Heavy Profit-Taking

ANACONDA COPPER CUTS PRODUCTION

NEW YORK, May 15—Once more the bulls were corralled by soaring call money rates today. Although operations for the advance were pushed forward vigorously, call money rose to 10 per cent yesterday, a 15 per cent rate reached this afternoon was sufficient to check operations and induce rather heavy profit taking.

The money flurry, however, failed to precipitate any real liquidation and the market turned bullish, with the day's turnover totalling 3,351,800 shares.

A calming feature of the day's news was the announcement that Anaconda Copper would curtail production 10 per cent.

Packard was the bull favorite of the session, rising almost five points to a record price at 183 3-4, but falling back to 180 1-2 at the close.

General Electric fluctuated widely, touching a new peak at 283, rallying to 274 and closing at 280 1-2, a net gain of 3 1-2.

Otis Elevator, a rather mercurial issue, soared 15 points to within 3 points of its record.

The selling embraced such important issues as Auto Accessories, Goodyear, Radio, Westinghouse and U.S. Steel, all of which suffered 2 points and more. Coppers were heavy. Anaconda slipped back about 2 points. United Aircraft, Wright and Curtiss lost 3 to 4 points.

Sparks-Withington dropped nearly 5 points and Adams Express 4.

Foreign exchanges were dull, with leading European currencies a shade lower, sterling cables sagging to $4.85 3-32.

The convertible issues again contributed life to an otherwise listless bond market, though, but failure of stocks to make headway against a 15 per cent call money rate kept the share privilege obligations close to yesterday's final prices.

WHEAT'S START IS UNSTEADY

WIDE FLUCTUATION EVIDENT IN FIRST TWO MINUTES AT WINNIPEG

Cash Demand Better — Support After Low Grades—Little Doing in the Coarser Grains

(Brenton, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, May 15—Wheat was unsteady at the start today, prices being 1-2 higher to 3-8 lower during the first ten minutes, despite the strong rains. However, local sentiment was inclined to be bullish, based on strength in Liverpool and Buenos Aires, combined with frost predictions for Winter wheat territory tonight, and with some buying by exporters and seaboard houses, prices were forced upward to 1c net higher than yesterday's close, reaching 115 and 117 respectively.

On this advance the market showed signs of being overbought, and, with good selling by one large elevator and milling company, the market broke rather badly.

Cash demand better. Some did a fair business overnight in the low grades and durums and spreds on these were mostly 1-4 to 1-3 better, with offerings light. Elsewhere there was little after the low grades, and it is evident that a good foreign demand is anticipated for these grades, which are excellent milling wheat at the price. At the top today's receipts were approximately 1 to 1-2 from the low points made last week. Offerings are still ample to take care of all requirements and it is reported that Canada can export 10,000,000 bushels weekly from now to August 1 and still have the large carryover of last year of nearly 80,000,000 bushels. Further good rains were reported in Saskatchewan and southern areas of all three Western provinces, and the first precipitation of the past three days. Nearly half of its subsidiary companies amounting to $4,500,000 It will also cover all the outstanding capital stock of the following The Farmers' Dairy Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont., Acme Dairy, Limited, Toronto, Ont., Elmhurst Dairy, Limited, Montreal, Que., Crescent Creamery Company, Limited, Winnipeg, Man.; The Producers' Dairy, Limited, Ottawa, Ont., accepting 10 per cent of the common shares, without nominal or par value of the Farmers' Dairy Company, Limited, $700,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock of the Farmers' Dairy Company, Limited, and $1,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock of Crescent Creamery Company.

The operating companies conduct a general dairy business in over a number of Eastern cities, and in Winnipeg.

Millions in Oil Millions in Mines

The persistent demand for Alberta oil stock and British Columbia mining issues maintains Additional millions of dollars appear for the development of promising enterprises every month

Alberta oil fields hold the centre of the stage at the present time, mines having been practically neglected after the first big strike in Turner Valley. That the word "oil" still holds magic is evidenced by the unabated demand for oil stocks.

Alberta is still in the preliminary stages of oil development, as British Columbia is in the development of its mining industry. Millions of dollars will be made by Alberta's oil companies during the next few years.

Meanwhile, millions will also be made in the British Columbia mining industry, and conservative investors are accumulating sound mining stocks at low prices, with the knowledge that these stocks will eventually return big profits.

MAY HEAT CITY BY WIRELESS

Wireless waves sent from the Eiffel Tower may eventually heat the entire city of Paris, according to French electrical engineers who are studying the system being used in Germany. According to M. Jacques Rinker, who has just returned from Germany, heating plants there are being operated by wireless waves, and, although the wireless heating of houses is still in the experimental stage, the feasibility of it has been definitely established. In the latest two posts were set up in the laboratory, about thirty feet apart. The sending post sent out from 400 to 500-volt current waves of a length of from two to three metres. Heat is produced by merely imposing on the receiving-post circuit a filament in a vacuum, which is raised to an incandescent state. Rinker says the receiving posts can easily be installed in homes to become electrical radiators.

Carry More Insurance For the Same Money

A definite business trend towards lower priced policies

There is a definite trend away from high priced plans of life insurance towards lower priced policies.

The public realizes keenly the value of life insurance and, in buying increased amounts, is seeking forms that give the most protection for the premium-dollar.

The Ontario Equitable operates on the non-participating (low cost) principle. No dividends are paid on policies; instead, premiums are low initially and stay low.

No uncertainty exists over future policy costs, but there is a definite business-like contract at a guaranteed cost.

Without detracting from the worth of participating insurance this must be said for the non-participating plan:

At rates from $6 to over $8 per $1000 lower, it will either:

(a) Buy considerably more insurance for the same outlay, or

(b) Keep the extra right in the insured's business where he should earn more with it than he would get in policy dividends.

The new business of this company increased from $2,066,685 for the first four months of 1928 to $4,066,985 for the first four months of 1929.

TRADING DULL AT VANCOUVER TREND LOWER

Demand Is Limited in Face of Some Profit-Taking—Home Oil Has Largest Recession

GOLCONDA AND SNOWFLAKE UP

VANCOUVER, May 15.—Trading on the stock exchange today was dull and featureless with the price trend lower in the majority of active oil and mine issues. The demand was limited in the face of some profit taking.

Anglo-Canadian Oil was 10c stronger, Calmont moved up 5c, Illinois-Alberta 4c, and Mayland 5c. Home Oil recorded the largest recession, slipping back 40c to $23.50. Alberta Pacific, on a moderate trade, lost 6c. Several other issues were 5c to 10c weaker.

In the mines Golconda and Snowflake were the one bright spot, climbing 10c and 4c respectively on a good demand. George Copper was off 3c to $4.00. Pend Oreille weakened 15c to $6.20, and Premier Gold lost 15c to $1.05. Noble Five was 2c stronger at 56 while Granby and losses of fractions to 2c ranged throughout the balance of the list.

COMPANY DOES LARGE VOLUME OF BUSINESS

Directors of Canadian General Electric Company Report Favorably to Shareholders

FACILITIES ARE BEING IMPROVED

The standing of the Canadian General Electric Company is shown in the following extracts from the directors' report:

"The statement of profit and loss shows that profits for the year 1928, after all charges for expenses, reserves and income taxes, but before depreciation, amounted to $4,494,665.56. From this amount there has been deducted the sum of $800,000 for current depreciation, leaving a net profit of $3,694,665.56, as compared with $3,102,053.31 in 1927, an increase of $1,591,612.25.

"During 1928 the company acquired a larger volume of business than the 122 per cent. of the preceding year, increase in shipments and orders being due to better sales, together with improvement in operating efficiency, resulting in larger net earnings. Unfilled orders at the end of the year were about 25 per cent. more than at the end of 1927.

"The company continued during the year to install in its manufacturing plants additional machinery and equipment for the purpose of enlarging its facilities, improving the quality of product, and of better service to customers. The sum of $800,000 was expended for such purpose in 1928 and during the last five years the expenditure has aggregated $3,380,000.

"The balance sheet reveals total current assets of $13,427,430.62, while total current liabilities are $2,068,654.14, leaving a working capital of $11,358,776.48, as compared with $11,271,41 over the previous year. Dominion Government securities held by the company at December 31, 1928, amounted to $4,996,875.00, cash on hand $1,488,726.21, a total of $6,485,601.21, as against the sum of $4,486,44 at December 31, 1927, representing an increase of $2,599,813.76.

"During 1928 the company distributed in salaries and wages approximately $6,300,000 and expended over $12,000,000 for materials, supplies and equipment. In accordance with the practice of the company purchases were made in Canada wherever possible.

"The annual report last year described an employees' savings and investment plan which was inaugurated in 1927. Subscriptions in 1928 considerably increased the holdings of the employees in the preferred stock of the company, and the additions to them of the company's contribution, which is a method of saving with liberal returns, warrants a continuation of the plan."

Germany is holding many centenary celebrations this year.

Wheat Slump Cost Farmers Two Millions

WINNIPEG, May 15—A wheat slump that has been in progress for with the exception in the records of the Canadian grain exchange for the crash of the recent eight-cent per bushel drop in values, reaches disclosed today. Two million dollars was the loss to farmers on the May 1 accounts, compared on the basis of stocks in farmers' hands.

Cash wheat prices show a average price of May futures since last August indicate the trend from the time that May wheat for 1928 delivery was placed on the trading list on August 2, opening at $1.26 per bushel. On August 31 the price fell to $1.14 1-8 due to large carry-over of old crop wheat, but heavy frosts on harvest eve were built factors and stood. Subsequently wheat until May was quoted at $1.35 1-4 on February 25 last.

Favorable prospects for another large crop of Winter wheat in the United States brought up and world values eased off, until on May 1 the price of May future was listed at $1.21. Following are the monthly-opening figures of average prices for May futures

August, 1928, 118 1-2; September 118 5-8; October 123 7-8. November 126 5-8. December 128 3-8. January, 1929 123 1-4. February 131 1-2 March, 128 1-2 April 128 1-8.

While the net break on May 1 was 6 cents, the market took another dip on May 8 to touch 108 per bushel for May. This figure was but half a cent above the lowest points touched by any future this season. On August 31 the price of May was sold down to 107 1-2.

On May 8, the May future broke 11 cents between May 8 and May 8, but recovered the most of the drop by the close of trading on May 14 and closed at 1 cent below the opening and cents the loss to the Western farmer through the slump actual out of the fact that fully half of the crop is handled by the Canadian pools, and portions of their holdings at any time can only be conjectured.

Various arguments have been advanced by market experts to explain the recent drastic break in Winnipeg prices. Some have charged the actual pools with holding back wheat they could have sold, others have laid stress on the result of three years of overproduction, surplus countries and some find reason for the congestion at Eastern ports in the early opening of lake navigation.

STOCK PRICES MOSTLY HIGHER

Trading at New York Very Active —Packard's Continued Rise Has Attracted Attention

(By Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, May 15—Prices in the stock market were generally higher at the start today and trading was on a very active scale. Packard Motors continued to reflect increased accompaniment and advanced quite easily to a new high level on the market move. Action of Packard had a stimulating effect on a number of the other motor issues and shares, and General Motors, Hudson and Chrysler recovered some of the recent losses in the early dealings. Rails exhibited some firmness and many of the utility issues recorded fractional gains.

A number of the electrical issues were again in active demand with General Electric the outstanding feature, the latter soaring to a new high level for the present share. Strength in General Electric was due to further stimulus today by a news article stating that the company will likely experience big gains prosperous year, and that there were some rumors in effect indicating that the company may possibly give some consideration to a distribution of the holdings of Radio Corporation.

The day's news was a preponderance of constructive factors. Carloadings for the week ended May 4 reached the one million mark for the first time this year According to The Iron Age Review, steel production and demand continues as a prominent factor in the broad general expectations.

Dividends in a number of corporations authorized the payment of stock in lieu of cash, thereby conserving their regular dividend. This latter has been a familiarity use of a number of the oil companies. Standard Oil of New Jersey, Sinclair and Prairie Pipe all made distributions in stock, and this had a stimulating effect on the market. Other dividend issues. Brother issues responded favorably to the present consumption figure with Goodyear the feature in this group. Call money renewed at 10 per cent and shortly after advanced to 12 Funds were in the close. was somewhat irregular. Look at the market will probably remain in a trading area for the time, with preference being given to the buying side on all recessions.

Auction Bidding

1st Hd.		2nd Hd.	3rd Hd.
1 N.T.		Double	Pass
Pass		Pass	Pass
2 ♣		Pass	Pass

ASLEEP POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Auction: North's hand is too weak to warrant immediate jump bid in spades, although his partner has bid No Trump, because a bid in this situation, that is, over an informatory double on the right, always denotes strength, or at least sufficient suit to make one anxious in case partner echoes or doubles the opponents.

The proper bid in this case card Major suit in preference to his three-card suit, the reason to be partner's double. With the informatory double on his left, South's bidding does not warrant further bidding, especially as with four Spades to the Queen he has reasonable hope of saving game.

Contract: West is not justified in bidding four Spades in view of the fact that South's forced Spade bid may have been made with but four cards of the suit and an objective worthless hand. With such holding game at Spades would be impossible. The fact that a game contract could not be logically reached with this hand, although game can be made illustrates the frequent ineffectiveness of the negative double at Contract in enabling the partnership bidding to reach at the real worth of the combined hands.

While, of course, either partner might have taken a chance at four-bid with this hand, such chances will not more often than they will gain.

THE PLAY

Holding four Spades South opens his longest side suit, leading the Ace of Hearts, upon which North, having three to the Queen, plays his encouraging Heart card. South continues Hearts. Declarer winning with Dummy's King. Declarer can enter his own hand without the loss of a trick only by trumping Hearts. Accordingly he leads a Heart from Dummy and ruffs it. The trumps are now equally divided 3-3 between the two hands, with the chance that the six adverse trumps may be unevenly divided. Declarer, therefore, finds himself in the unique situation that counsels the use of as many of his own trumps as possible for ruffing, and therefore plans to continue to force his own hand.

Declarer leads the Jack of Diamonds from his hand, overtaking Dummy's Ace. Then he takes Dummy's Queen of Diamonds, at once to provide against the possible loss of a trick in case South has Ace of a Diamond on the coming Heart ruff.

Declarer then ruffs another Heart with Dummy's Ace, to use his own trumps for ruffing the Hearts, with the loss of trumping the suit on the table. Declarer now passes the trick. Declarer winning with the King and returning a Spade. South, winning, shifts to Hearts. Declarer does not run the Spade finesse at the point, because he is unsuccessful he would be unable to make the Club ruff, and also because an adversary must lead a Spade to the twelfth trick and the Spade finesse can be taken then if necessary.

After ruffing a Club, East leads a Diamond which South is compelled to trump South must then lead a Spade and Declarer, taking the finesse, wins the last two tricks, scoring game on the hand

PARTHENIA DOCKS FROM LIVERPOOL

Donaldson Line Freighter Has Considerable Difficulty in Reaching Dock

Owing to a strong wind blowing off shore gales at 5 o'clock yesterday evening, the Donaldson liner Parthenia experienced considerable difficulty in trying to dock her pier.

Her stern swung around until it was almost at right angles to the pier and for a few seconds it looked as though serious damage might result. At this point both port and starboard bower anchors were dropped, effectively checking the movement and preventing further trouble.

Four lines were fastened to her bow and the ship gradually warped out of her diagonal position to a point twenty feet from her berth. At 8.30 o'clock the freighter was safely docked.

Capt. R. C. Bell reported a rough voyage across the Pacific from Liverpool for Pacific Coast ports on April 10. At Yokohama two Italians stowed away with the expressed purpose of reaching California coast. They were discovered within a few hours after the ship left Los Angeles. On the return trip of the vessel they were put ashore in Japan and taken back to the port where they secreted themselves aboard.

For this port the Parenthia had ninety-seven tons of assorted liquors, oranges and lemons, with 800 tons of general cargo for Vancouver.

Capt. A. B. Clarke affectionately known as "ABC," who was recently appointed port captain for the Donaldson Line on the Pacific Coast, was on the bridge when the liner docked for Vancouver at midnight.

DEPORTEE LOOSE FOR NEARLY YEAR

Nakasone Shinbore Finally Rounded Up and Sent to Japan on Yokohama Maru

Nakasono Shinboye, Japanese deporte, commenced the fourteen-day voyage to Yokohama yesterday afternoon aboard the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru, after being a fugitive from justice since June 26, 1928.

Shinboye arrived here from Yokohama on June 18, aboard the Yokohama Maru without the necessary papers to enter Canada. He was locked in the immigration detention building on Dallas Road, pending arrangements for his deportation.

and escaped six days later by sawing through the iron-barred window and dropping to the ground. He was discovered near Vancouver early this week and brought over to be sent back to the land of his fathers yesterday afternoon.

Mr. J. Key escorted the Japanese from the immigration building to the liner after taking the precaution to handcuff him to prevent a break for liberty.

The Yokohama Maru carried only seven first class passengers and eleven third. Among the cabin travellers was Mrs. Dorothy Coventry, daughter of Major George R. Coventry, bound for Shanghai, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thomas Roggers, of Vancouver, also for Shanghai.

Captain K. Yoshida had 7,851 tons of cargo for ports of Japan and China. The shipment included automobile parts, wood pulp, lime, passenger cars, refrigerator machinery, rock drill parts, tools, lents, polish, fir doors, flour, hemlock and fir lumber. The vessel docked at 3.45 o'clock and left at 4.30.

WASHINGTON WILL BE BURNED AFTER LENGTHY CAREER

The Puget Sound Navigation Company's steamer Washington, formerly the Flyer, has been sold at Seattle to Neider A. Marcus for scrapping, according to word received here by Mr. E. E. Blackwood, agent for the Black Ball Ferry Line. She will be burned at Richmond Beach.

The old vessel probably has seemed more miles than any ship on the Pacific Coast. She operated on the regular schedule until about two years ago, when she became the Puget Sound Navigation Company's spare boat. Her name was changed to Washington about twelve years ago, but the waterfront still remembered her as the famous Flyer of other days. The vessel was built in Portland thirty-eight years ago. She is now lying idle at Smith Cove.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

SHARK PROBLEM SERIOUS

Sharks have become so threatening at some of the beaches of Australia that general fear of them is menacing the sport, and a conference of municipal councils has been called to take up the subject. Many plans for protecting bathers have been advanced. One is the spreading of steel nets in the water and around the bathing spots. Another is a method of signalling bathers when the unwelcome visitors appear. Another is a set of legal restrictions keeping swimmers within the breakers and preventing "flashy" exhibitions of the foolhardy out beyond the reach of the lifeguards.

China is constructing many new motor roads.
